STRIKE SETTLED IN BRITAIN AND TRAINS ARE OPERATING AGAIN

Government Has Agreed Men's Wages Are to Remain at Present Level Until September 30, 1920; General Negotiations to Be Resumed

London, Oct. 6.—Great Britain's railway system was again in operation to-day as a result of the settlement yesterday of the great railway strike, averting what threatened to develop into an ominous spread of the nation's labor troubles. Virtually every man engaged in railway work in London returned to his duty before nine o'clock this morning. The various rail services did not speedily reach the normal state, however, because of the abnormal displacement of railway material that resulted from the suspension of work.

In the country districts also, the resumption was general, except in the outlying districts, where telegrams announcing the settlement and ordering the men back to work could not be delivered last night.

The railroad companies promised to-day that virtually regular service would be in operation on their lines to-morrow.

The settlement of the strike followed a meeting yesterday between Mr. Lloyd George and members of the executive board of the National Union of Railwaymen, which meeting had been arranged at the conference held Saturday night by Mr. Bonar Law and the conciliation committee of the trades unions.

Terms.
The following terms were agreed upon:
1. Work shall be resumed immediately.
2. Negotiations will be resumed on the understanding that they shall be completed before the end of the year.
3. Wages will be stabilized at the present level until September 30, 1920, and at any time after August 1, 1920, they may be reviewed in the light of circumstances then existing.
4. No adult railwayman in Great Britain shall receive less than 51 shillings a week while the cost of living is 110 per cent. above the pre-war level.

5. The National Union of Railwaymen agrees that its men will work harmoniously with the men who returned to work or who remained at work during the strike. There shall be no victimization of strikers.
6. Arrears of wages will be paid on resumption of work.

The Loss.
London, Oct. 6.—Business men are inclined to estimate the total loss to the nation through the railway strike as approximately £50,000,000, according to The Daily Mail.

The bills to be paid by the Government probably will amount to £1,000,000 for each day of the strike.

The loss to industry is far greater. Perishable goods in many cases were destroyed. Many works stopped operations. Almost all export trade ceased and orders were lost through the uncertainty of conditions.

The railwaymen in eight days spent £200,000 in strike pay, the emergency funds of the National Union of Railwaymen being depleted to that extent.

Big Flagstaff From This Province Now Standing in London

London, Oct. 6.—Canada's victory flagstaff has been erected on Victory Mound at the Victoria Gate entrance to Kew Gardens—a straight Douglas fir, 215 feet high and almost three feet in diameter at the base. It is the gift of the people of British Columbia to London and ranks with the tallest structure in London, Nelson's Monument in Trafalgar Square being only 142 feet high. Bow Church 222, St. Stephen's clock tower (Big Ben's home) 320, Victoria Tower (House of Lords) 336, and St. Paul's Cathedral 355.

TO AID AIMS OF INDUSTRIAL MEETING

Ottawa, Oct. 6.—A wide circulation of the verbatim report of the proceedings at the National Industrial Conference held in Ottawa from September 15 to 20, is being made through the Labor Department. It is felt that this report and the memorandum of information prepared by the Labor Department in connection with the Conference, will be of substantial value in furthering the objects of the gathering.

Denikine's Troops Now Are Driving on Towards Moscow

Copenhagen, Oct. 6.—General Denikine's troops are within thirty miles of Orel, on the road to Moscow, and the Bolsheviks who have been opposing him are surrendering in great numbers, according to a wireless dispatch from the Cossack anti-Bolshevik commander received here to-day.

Orel is about 175 miles southwest of Moscow.

LONDON PAPERS EXPRESS RELIEF

Glad Railway Strike Has Been Ended; Some Comments of Writers

London, Oct. 6.—General relief and satisfaction are expressed by the newspapers here over the settlement of the railroad strike. A majority of the newspapers maintain that neither side is entitled to claim a victory, but several declare that the result has shown that organized workers are unable to "intimidate the nation."

The Telegraph is satisfied with the "clean settlement" and hopes the strike has "proved finally that an attempt by the railwaymen to stun the nation will always fail."

Daily Mail.
The Mail declines to discuss the terms, saying: "If they satisfy the railwaymen, they satisfy everybody."

Daily News.
The News maintains the controversy has been ended with credit to all concerned, and says:
"The defeat of either could not have been satisfactory. Both can claim peace with honor, the men's gains being far greater than is evident in the concrete terms of the settlement."

Asserting that the terms do not differ materially from those offered on the eve of the strike by the Government, The Post declares:
"The strike was a disastrous and ignominious failure and destroyed the menace of the 'Triple Alliance' to the community."

Graphic and Herald.
The Graphic declares:
"The Government yielded too much," while The Herald, the Labor organ, says: "The attempt of the Government and capitalists to smash trades unionism and inaugurate an era of low wages was defeated, and the Geddes brothers (Sir Eric Geddes, Minister of Transport, and Sir Auckland Geddes, Minister of National Service and Reconstruction), have been routed. It was a great victory."

RECLAIMING LAND.
Amsterdam, Oct. 5.—Via London, Oct. 6.—Holland has begun work on its long-projected plan for reclaiming the land covered by the Zuider Zee. This will mark the fulfillment of a Dutch dream of seventy years.

CITY OF DWINSK, ON DUNA RIVER, CAPTURED BY POLES

Copenhagen, Oct. 6.—Polish forces have carried the fortifications of Dwinsk, between Old Russia and Poland, after two days of hard fighting, according to Berlin advices. All the city except a portion south of the Duna River now is held by the Poles, it is said.

Stockholm, Oct. 6.—Hadui Lashet, one of sixteen Russians arrested here charged with belonging to a political murder band, with at least three murders to his credit, made an unreserved confession of guilt at the rehearing of the case on Saturday. Versions of the story current here in which a beautiful Russian girl was mentioned as the lure by which the victims were enticed to the scene of their

NOTED WARRIOR AGAIN ON HOME SOIL; SIR ARTHUR CURRIE

KING OF ITALY TO RATIFY THE TREATY WITH GERMANY

Paris, Oct. 6.—According to a dispatch from Rome, an Italian royal decree ratifying the peace treaty with Germany will be ratified and signed to-day.

Rome, Oct. 6.—The semi-official newspaper Tribuna says that the ratification of the peace treaty by royal decree is imminent.
"The clauses of the treaty with Germany," the paper adds, "can then be enforced, as, with Italy's ratification by royal decree, the approval of three Allied Powers, which is necessary to make the treaty effective, will have been given."

GREAT GAINS MADE, SAYS J. H. THOMAS

Leaders of British Railwaymen Speak of Settlement of Strike

London, Oct. 6.—Leaders of the National Union of Railwaymen who directed the strike, which was settled yesterday, declare their satisfaction with the arrangement in messages to The Herald, the London organ of the union labor.

"The men stood four-square, determined to secure victory or go down together," declared J. H. Thomas, secretary of the union and leader of the strike. "The settlement brings home great gains."

He appeals to railwaymen to consolidate their organization and make their forces stronger than ever, so as to "gain for all members a higher standard of life."

As Good.
C. T. Cramp, president of the union, says:
"While we did not obtain the formula we set forth in the strike resolution, we obtained terms equally as good, which will give the railwaymen the same thing in effect. Our men have broken the back of the first attack made upon the entire working class and no doubt this splendid stand will save workers from a degraded standard of life."

LIVED TO 113.
El Paso, Tex., Oct. 6.—Mrs. Varela Candelaria Diaz, 113 years old, died here to-day. She was born in Villa Hidalgo, Durango, Mexico.

SIR ARTHUR CURRIE ACCLAIMED BY POPULACE UPON HIS RETURN FROM EUROPEAN WAR THEATRE

GENERAL CURRIE IS PLEASED TO BE BACK

"It is awfully nice to come home and meet so many old friends again. It touches one deeply and one will not forget it."

"I shall not forget the loyal service of those men who fought in France, and as we were comrades in the field I hope we shall remain loyal comrades to the end."

"No matter what position I hold the welfare of the returned men will be always nearest my heart."

"I agree that no greater distinction can be conferred upon anyone than that of 'comrade.' I am proud to belong to the G.W.V.A."

"I do not look forward with any degree of pleasure to giving up my residence in Victoria. I am going to do all I can to get some position that will enable me to live here again."

"Through the deeds of your fathers we have now a Canadian history, and I want you school children to study the records and deeds of your fathers and draw an inspiration from them."—General Sir Arthur Currie's first expressions on reaching home to-day.

DUKE OF AOSTA TO SEE D'ANNUNZIO

Will Ask Him Not to Extend Operations About Fiume

Paris, Oct. 6.—The Duke of Aosta has gone to Fiume, having been charged by the Government to ask Captain d'Annunzio not to extend his operations about that city but to await a decision by the Allies relative to the situation, according to advices from Rome.

Regulars Substituted.
Rome, Oct. 6.—According to reports received by the Ministry of the Navy, there was only one shot fired at the steamship Epiro, with 200 Italian troops and other passengers aboard, was fired on by Jugo-Slavs from Rondoni Island, near Cattaro, situated on an island in the channel. Italy has obtained the punishment of the guilty sailor and the substitution of Serbian regular troops for volunteer sailors as guards of the forts along the channel.

Few Shots.
Bari, Italy, Oct. 6.—The report that the Italian steamship Epiro, with 200 Italian troops and other passengers aboard, was fired on by Jugo-Slavs from Rondoni Island, near Cattaro, on September 30, is confirmed. Only a few shots were fired against the vessel, then only about 100 yards from the shore, but a cavalry soldier, who is in the hospital with a bullet wound in one shoulder and leg, attests to the truth of the incident.

PLANE DEMOLISHED.

Washington, Oct. 6.—A large Martin bombing plane, en route from Bolling Field here to New York to be entered in the coming trans-continental race, was demolished to-day in landing at Eastview Field, Pennsylvania, and Major J. S. Davis, ranking officer of the plane's crew, was injured internally.

BERLIN URGES ALLIES SEND MISSION TO BALTIC AREA

Paris, Oct. 6.—The German Government has delivered to General Dupont, general commander of the Inter-Allied Commission at Berlin, a memorandum declaring that it has recalled General von der Goltz, commander of the German troops in the Baltic provinces and Lithuania, has stopped pay, supplies and munitions to the German troops there and is doing everything possible to bring about the withdrawal of the German soldiers in accordance with the demand of the Supreme Council.

Gen. von Eberhard has been appointed in place of Gen. von der Goltz to take charge of the evacuation of the Baltic provinces. The memorandum insists that the

Enthusiastic Demonstration Greeted Victorious General Upon His Arrival Here This Morning; Official Reception; Addresses of Welcome From Provincial Government, City and Great War Veterans

The man who went away from Victoria in August, 1914, as a citizen lieutenant-colonel, returned to Victoria to-day with a record of five years overseas, during which he made a military reputation that has made his name known in every part of the world.

General Sir Arthur W. Currie, G. C. M. G., K. C. B., commander of the Canadian army in France, was welcomed back to his home city with a demonstration at the wharf, an official Provincial reception at the Parliament Buildings and a civic reception at the Public Library, Yates Street.

The General, accompanied by Lady Currie, Miss Marjorie Currie and Master Garner Currie, who was dressed in a Highland costume, and Major Willis O'Connor, aide-de-camp, came across from Vancouver last night on the Princess Alice. Shortly after eight o'clock the General was up and took a stroll around the decks of the boat, looking over what he could see of Victoria through the golden haze.

The Hon. John Hart, Minister of Finance, and Major-General Leckie, representing the Comrades of the Great War, were the first of the official party to arrive and welcome the General. He talked with him for some time, until Lieutenant-Governor Sir Frank Bannard and Lady Bannard, accompanied by private secretaries H. J. Muskett and Capt. de M. Mellin arrived. Lady Bannard presented Lady Currie with a bouquet of roses.

First Welcomes.
Mrs. Margaret Jenkins and Mrs. Spofford, of the executive of the welcoming committee, the former also representing the Women's Canadian Club, greeted Sir Arthur and Lady Currie. H. J. Young, secretary of the Army and Navy Veterans, also went aboard to welcome the General. Shortly after 9 o'clock the party which had breakfast on the boat, posed for a photograph on one of the after decks.

While the party was breakfasting a number of personal friends and representatives of public bodies went aboard. Amongst these were Capt. Gordon Smith, of the Great War Veterans' Association; John Cochrane, president of the Canadian Club; G. A. Kirk, president of the Army and Navy Veterans; General R. P. Clark and Mrs. Clark; E. B. Paul, E. C. Hayward and W. S. Terry, of the Masonic Order; Mrs. R. B. McKelving, Mrs. W. H. Holmes and Mrs. Colin Cummings of the Lady Douglas Chapter, L. O. D. E., who presented Lady Currie with a basket of flowers; Mayor Porter and Mrs. Porter; F. A. Pauline, M. P. P.; Mrs. Andrew Gray and Miss Betty Gray.

Crowds Cheer General.
After these were presented to General and Lady Currie and he talked to them for a while, the party stepped ashore. At the end of the gangplank the General was greeted by Major Sisman, Capt. Martin, C.M.G., R. N., Major Barty and E. C. B. Bagshaw, representing the British Campaigners.

As soon as the crowd which jammed Belleville Streets and stretched up to the main entrance of the Parliament Buildings, picked out the great frame of the General as the party came along the passenger bridge over the wharf, they broke out into cheers.

The Guard of Honor consisting of overseas men of the 8th C. G. A. under Major Bovill, M. C., who went overseas with Sir Arthur, and Lieut. H. K. Robinson and Lieut. Joseph Clearhuc, M. C., accompanied by their band and pipers, were drawn up on Belleville Street at the end of the dock. Sir Arthur inspected the Guard shaking hands with the men, calling many by name, and asking questions as to their families and their war service. At the left of the square in front of the J. B. A. club house, ninety-eight returned officers under Brigadier-General R. P. Clark, D. S. O., M. C., were drawn up. Sir Arthur shook hands with each of these men, and talked with them for some time.

Greeted by Premier.
When these ceremonies were over the party headed by the band and the Guard of Honor moved up to the steps of the Parliament Buildings, where the General, Lady Currie, their

CLEMENCEAU IS OF NOBLE DESCENT

Paris, Oct. 6.—Georges Clemenceau, Premier of France, is of noble descent, according to The Armorial Franciscan, which has been looking up his pedigree. The Clemenceau family, it says, can be traced to Jehan Clemenceau, master printer and librarian of Lower Poitou, who in the fifteenth century obtained from Louis XII a patent of nobility and henceforth was known as Jehan Clemenceau de la Clemenceiere. The arms granted to him consisted of "two keys argent crossed on a field azure."

USE POISON GAS AGAINST BEDBUGS

Paris, Oct. 6.—The days of the bedbug are numbered as a result of the discovery that poison gas intended for use against the Germans can be utilized to kill vermin, according to Professor Roux, director of the Pasteur Institute. It is suggested that the gas or chemicals that form the gas can be sprayed into a closed room and left to asphyxiate the bugs.

TRIED TO BOTTLE UP GRAND FLEET

U Boats' Attempt at Firth of Forth Now Described

London, Oct. 6.—German U boats tried to bottle up the Grand Fleet in the Firth of Forth during the latter part of the war, says a London paper, which describes this as the most ambitious tactical operation undertaken by enemy undersea craft.

The scheme aimed at the blocking of the entrance to the Forth by the sowing of a big minefield. Three months of hard work were devoted to the task by a considerable fleet of submarines, the mines being laid in the shape of a half-moon. But mine-sweepers had discovered the plan and, as fast as the mines were planted, they were cleared away.

It is recalled that other similar attempts to trap the fleet were made in 1915 in the Moray Firth, when over 400 mines were laid, and in 1916 at the Orkneys. In round numbers, on these three occasions, the Germans laid 1,100 mines at a cost of $1,000 each. The King Edward was the only fighting ship that fell a victim in these operations.

Enormous numbers of mines were laid by the Germans off Harwich. It was found that these fields were spread regularly at ten-day intervals, so British sweepers occasionally left portions of these waters unswept so that when the next batch of submarines came along they ran afoul of their own mines.

The task of clearing British waters of mines is almost completed.

MEXICANS LACK SPIRIT OF PROTEST

Secretary of Treasury Speaks of Possibility of Armed Intervention

Mexico City, Oct. 6.—(Associated Press.)—The Mexican people's lack of a spirit of protest and the absence of public unification in the face of the reported imminence of army intervention is a phenomenon never before encountered in Mexico's history, according to an account of an interview given to representatives of the capital city press by Luis Cabrera, Secretary of the Treasury, as printed by The Excelsior.

The Secretary blamed the press for this seeming lack of patriotism, but agreed, in response to the interviewers' suggestions, that the silence of the Foreign Office in regard to international questions might be the cause for the Mexican papers' failure to give this country's attitude sufficient publicity.

British Immigrants.

El Paso, Texas, Oct. 6.—Thousands of British subjects will immigrate into Mexico about the middle of October, according to The Excelsior, a newspaper of Mexico City, copies of which have just reached here. The colonists will settle in Durango and Chihuahua. Arrangements for their passage into Mexico are to be made by General Critchley, of the British army.

Pale-Cheeked Women Told About Restoring A Rosy Complexion

A few years ago the girl with pale, drawn cheeks scarcely knew what to do in order to restore her fading appearance. At that time there was no blood-food medium made that really would put color and strength into systems that were more or less worn out.

To-day it's different. The blood can be quickly nourished, can be made rich, red, and healthy. All you have to do is take two Ferrozone Tablets with a sip or two of water after meals. The effect is almost magical.

Mothers, look at your children. Are they ruddy and strong—do they eat and sleep well, or are they pale, weak, and anemic?

FERROZONE will rebuild them. Take your own case—Is your blood strong and rich? Have you that old-time strength and vigor, or are you somewhat under the weather?

FERROZONE will supply the strengthening elements you require. It is a blood-forming, nourishing tonic that makes every alling person well.

FERROZONE is a marvelous remedy. It contains in concentrated form certain rare qualities that especially fit it in cases of anaemia, poor color, thin blood, tiredness, and loss of weight.

Every day you put off using FERROZONE you lose ground. Get it today, sold in 50 cent boxes by all dealers, or by mail from the Catarthosone Co., Kingston, Ont.

WARM TIME IF IVENS TRIES TO SPEAK IN SARNIA

Sarnia, Ont., Oct. 6.—The alleged statement of Rev. William Ivens, of Winnipeg strike prominence, that he would brave the storm of Sarnia citizens by coming here this week, has caused prominent residents to form themselves into a "citizens' safety committee," who state that their duty is to prepare for his arrival. At a meeting held yesterday it was announced that Ivens would not be allowed to speak in Sarnia if there was any way possible to keep him from doing so.

Members of the Citizens' Committee stated that they would take matters into their own hands.

800,000 SERBIAN CIVILIANS PERISHED

War Took Terrible Toll; Losses of Army Were in Addition

London, Oct. 6.—One-fifth of the population of Serbia, or about 800,000 persons, perished from all causes during the war, according to figures compiled at Belgrade and received here. Typhus alone claimed about 300,000 of these.

No figures have yet been furnished by the Serbian War Department as to the number of deaths in the army. It is known that the total number of men mobilized was 700,000. Of this number 300,000 were combatant troops and 400,000 were used in various auxiliary services. About 10,000 Serbians were interned in Bulgaria during the war, and of these about one-half are believed to have perished, according to the reports of the Inter-Allied Commission.

TRADE OF BRAZIL EXPANDS RAPIDLY

Many Enterprises From the States and Europe Are Opening Business

Rio de Janeiro, Oct. 6.—(Associated Press.)—That countries other than the United States realize the growing commercial importance of Brazil and the advantage of establishing new or more extended relations with the largest and perhaps the richest of all South American countries is indicated by the large number of foreign concerns establishing offices or agencies here or seeking Federal permission to carry on business in Brazil.

Every steamship from Europe and the United States brings its quota of business representatives who come prepared to embark in business at once or to survey the situation and decide upon the desirability of entering the field.

During the last few months an unusual number of new concerns have been authorized to do business here. These include not only companies organized in Brazil with both local and foreign capital, but also many organized and financed in the United States and Europe.

The new enterprises will cover wide fields of activities, ranging from banking, insurance and shipbuilding to the establishment of seaside resorts. The greater number of them, however, will engage in the business of importing and exporting. One of the new companies is organized with Lisbon and Oporto capital, amounting to $6,000,000, and proposes to foster trade between Brazil and Portugal and her colonies in West Africa.

GENERAL CURRIE WELCOMED.

Victoria welcomes to-day a returned soldier to whom history will give a foremost place in its chronicle of the epochal occurrences of the last five years. When he left this city, in which he had spent most of his life, in the summer of 1914, as Lieut.-Colonel A. W. Currie, he was comparatively unknown in military circles beyond the boundaries of British Columbia. He had had no active service record and his militia experience had been confined to his association with the Fifth Regiment, in which he had risen from gunner to commander, and the 50th (Gordon) Highlanders, of which he was colonel when Germany forced the world into war. To-day he returns as General Sir Arthur W. Currie, K. C. B., G. C. M. G., with a record of achievement and distinction which has few parallels in the military annals of this Empire. The obscure colonel of five years ago comes home a figure of world-wide eminence, presenting a remarkable transformation which in itself must remain one of the outstanding features of these remarkable times.

In addressing a gathering of returned soldiers in Montreal recently, Sir Arthur Currie said: "Nobody knows better than you boys that any success with which my name has been associated has been won for me by you in the field. The Canadian Corps was one big machine, and it was the spirit of co-operation that won success for us." In this, the General showed his full realization of where the foundation of the extraordinary achievements of Canada's army in the field lay, and his desire that whatever honors had been bestowed upon him should be regarded as tributes to the valor and skill of the whole Corps as much as to his leadership. The Corps and its leader in truth were the effective and indispensable complements of one another, and, as Sir Arthur Currie pointed out, cannot be dissociated from one another. That each was worthy of the other is eloquently shown by the record.

The best army material without able leadership is little better off than able leadership without inferior army material. The Canadian forces in the field had the advantage of both able leadership and splendid material in the rank and file. When General Currie left here in 1914, he was a good type of the army he was destined to lead. He was a citizen about to open his experience in modern war and the Canadian units were composed, for the most part, of citizens of his kind. Like them he had nothing to unlearn, no preconceptions based upon other campaigns to get rid of in order to bring a fresh, original intelligence to bear upon military problems and conditions without precedent in military history, and for the solution of which the authorized text books contained no key.

Having no deadwood to obscure their vision, and being bound to no beaten path, both commanders and men had to meet conditions as they arose by the exercise of their own native ability, resourcefulness and force of mind and character. They learned to make modern war in the school of modern war and in their many desperate experiences learned also the secret of victory. The Second Battle of Ypres, for example, confronted the Canadian forces with a problem the solution of which had to be improvised; with an emergency remedy for which had to be found on the spot.

If the Canadians had attempted to meet the formidable German thrust in that battle, with its murderous gas reinforcements—used for the first time in warfare—in accordance with the old military teaching, not only would Calais have fallen but, as Sir John French pointed out, the entire Franco-British front in France and Flanders would have been outflanked. Instead of retreating to permit the gap on their left to be filled they attacked with a fury and force out of all proportion to their meagre numbers. This manoeuvre was purely Napoleonic. By it the Little Corporal won Marengo. By it Foch with his Ninth Army broke the German centre at the Battle of the Marne. "My right has been driven in, my centre is retreating. The situation is excellent; I am attacking," wired Foch to Joffre on the evening of September 4, 1914. The Canadians in the Second Battle of Ypres were in an even more difficult position, for their flank was not only bent back but it was without protection; but they met the danger by attacking, as Foch did—and won.

Thus the Canadian forces learned to develop their own methods of meeting a critical situation early in the war, and with that instruction also came the development of their morale and the consciousness of their ability as a battling organization. The Second Battle of Ypres in many respects was the most important conflict in which the Canadian troops were engaged, for their achievements there provided the base upon which the splendid superstructure of victories won by them in the following years rested. It tested both the calibre of the citizen soldiers of Canada and their leadership and demonstrated that both were worthy of one another.

While General Currie's generous appreciation of the part played by the Canadian forces in his own advancement was altogether fitting, it should not be forgotten that he was chosen to lead the Corps from among a number of other able and distinguished Canadian commanders; that the leadership did not fall to him automatically. If he had not shown exceptional qualities as a commander, if he had not exhibited strategic ability and insight and organizing capacity of a very high order, he never would have been raised to a position of such tremendous responsibility. Field-Marshal Haig, the commander-in-chief of all the Imperial armies in the West Front, the man who was responsible for everything that was done on the British front and who had to bear the burden of the failure of any of his subordinates, would have been satisfied with nobody but one in whom he had the fullest confidence at the head of what was the largest, as it was the most formidable, army of all the Allied armies in Flanders and France.

Victoria thus uses this occasion to honor her citizen who, through conspicuous ability, became and remained the leader of the Canadian forces in the field and, through him, the brave men who served under him—the thousands who already have preceded him to Canada and, with all reverence, the thousands who sleep on the battlefields of France and Belgium.

BRITAIN'S STRIKE SETTLED.

Great Britain's railway strike was settled yesterday. For nine days over fifty millions of people, dependent upon the most intricate network of railways in the world, have faced an industrial condition equal in its consequences to invasion by a foreign foe. And yet scarcely an accident or an untoward incident marked the greatest railway tie-up the country has ever known. If the alarmists, who have endeavored to interpret the action of the National Union of Railwaymen as a bid for the destruction of constitutional government, require proof that the British workman is still the Bolshevik's enemy, yesterday's settlement should be sufficient.

In brief the terms of the settlement involve a return to work immediately; the resumption of negotiations on the understanding that they shall be completed before the end of the year; that wages shall be stabilized at the present level until September 30, 1920, while at any time after August 1, they may be reviewed in the light of circumstances then existing; that no adult railwayman in Great Britain shall receive less than fifty-one shillings per week, while the cost of living is 110 per cent. above the pre-war level, and that arrears of wages shall be paid on resumption of work. On its part the National Union of Railwaymen agrees that its men shall work harmoniously with the men who returned to work or who remained at work during the strike, and the Government agrees that there shall be no victimization of strikers.

Settlement of the strike followed a meeting between the Prime Minister and members of the executive of the National Union of Railwaymen, while much credit is undoubtedly due to the preliminary negotiations carried on between the conciliation committee of the trades unions and Mr. Bonar Law. The principal feature of the settlement is the concession to the railwaymen. Instead of the possibility of submitting to a reduced wage rate after the end of the year, yesterday's settlement provides for the extension of the existing scale until September 30, 1920. Another noteworthy consideration and one which, after all, goes to the seat of the trouble, is that which promises a minimum wage of fifty-one shillings to all adult railwaymen as long as living costs remain at 110 per cent. above pre-war levels.

There never was any doubt about the grievance of the unskilled railway workers and the N. U. R. made it clear from the outset that it was a fight for the low paid. The national organization went wrong when it took the bull by the horns and threw the whole country—its sympathizers into the bargain—into an industrial dilemma at a time when every ounce of productive machinery was demanded at top-speed rate in order that the railwayman's own case might be aided without imposing too great a subsequent handicap. It is a fortunate circumstance, however, that limited the dispute to one member of the Triple Alliance while there is much to commend in the fact that fairly good relations were maintained between the N. U. R. and the Government. To the Transport Workers' Federation, however, much credit is due for its unflinching energy in a successful endeavor to allow conciliatory councils to prevail.

The strike should teach the Government a lesson. It must be realized that five years of war is bound to leave a mark. It taught the nation many things; it taught the worker a lesson also. It may be that pre-war production has not been equalled let alone increased. While that is so it is in the interest of Labor itself that every workman should keep his eyes open to the inevitable consequences. On that account the British Trade Union Congress should see to it that the extreme element is ditched. The great majority is on the side of the underpaid, but they are no friends of Labor who choose the more popular path of flattering and encouraging its illusions.

MORE SPEED WANTED.

Thirteen city and district municipalities have yet to return their questionnaires to the Minister of Finance before he will be in a position to discuss the possibility of providing additional sources of municipal revenue. It had been hoped by Mr. Hart that these documents would have been returned by September 15 at latest, so that sittings of civic representatives could have been arranged early this month. It is to be hoped that there will be no further delay, for it is obvious that the Minister of Finance cannot do anything unless there is a desire on the part of every municipality to respond to the request for all available information.

PROPORTIONAL REPRESENTATION.

(Ottawa Citizen.)
When elections are conducted on the principle of proportional representation, it will not tend to split the vote of a progressive movement if several candidates on the same side are nominated. The voter has the privilege of marking the figure 1 against the name of the candidate he likes best, figure 2 against second choice, figure 3 against third choice, and so on; and the effect of having this single transferable vote is that all votes are used, none is wasted, and there is no such difficulty as splitting the progressive vote. Until proportional representation is adopted, the open convention such as tonight's meeting at the Arena on Laurier Avenue, facing Carleton Square, is the most democratic way to get a true reflection of the will of the people.

SIR ARTHUR CURRIE ACCLAIMED BY POPULACE UPON HIS RETURN

family and members of their party were greeted by Premier John Oliver. There was an immense crowd in front of the Buildings and as Sir Arthur got out of his car the crowd broke into cheers. On the way up to the Buildings the General passed through a guard composed of members of the Cadet Corps from the Boys' Central School, under Lieut. H. W. Croelman, and Girl Guides representing Victoria and Oak Bay companies under Capt. Miss Unwin and Lieut. Miss Tysoe. Amongst those on the steps of the Parliament Buildings were the Hon. T. D. Pattullo, the Hon. J. W. de B. Harris, and Alderman John J. Currie. Premier Oliver read the following address to Sir Arthur:

"To General Sir Arthur W. Currie, G.C.M.G., K.C.B.:
"The Government of British Columbia, representing the citizens of the Province, desires to signalize your safe return to your native land and to your home city after more than five years of prominent participation in the great world war which has been terminated so victoriously by the armies of the Allied nations. We welcome you heartily and most gratefully to the scenes with which you are familiar and the friendly faces from which you, in common with all your compatriot soldiers, were rudely torn at the outbreak of hostilities.

Pride in Record

"While we know that you have received well-earned recognition at the hands of the people of Canada at the national capital and in other centres of our country, the Province of British Columbia claims a just and singular pride in your distinguished leadership of the Canadian forces in France and Flanders, and asks your acceptance of a tribute of their respect, honor and esteem.

"We express our gratitude to that Providence which has vouchsafed your return to your native country, and continually will pray that, in whatever future field of activity your talents and experience may be employed, the blessing of God may rest upon you and you may be granted long life in which to enjoy the honors conferred on you and to further serve your beloved land and the Empire.

"Accept, therefore, as expressing the sentiments of a loyal people, these tokens of their grateful praise."

General Much Moved.

Sir Arthur was much moved by the demonstration on the part of the crowds that accompanied the reading of the address and his voice trembled as he attempted to reply.

"It is difficult to express in a manner satisfactory to Lady Currie and myself our appreciation of the warm welcome on our home-coming to the city in which we lived and to which we have looked forward to for so long," he said.

"I think our Province of British Columbia enjoys the invidious distinction of sending more than any other Province of her men and wealth. It was always a matter of pride, to us at the front, the manner in which the ones at home were backing up our efforts at the front with more men and wealth. And besides that we knew that we had the prayers of the people of this Province and that moral support counted for a great deal.

"It is good to be home again and I know the people of Victoria will excuse me at this time and place from saying anything further."

Major-General Leckie led the cheers for Sir Arthur after which Premier Oliver presented the General and Lady Currie with an engraved silver tray as an "expression on the part of the people of British Columbia for the services of General Sir Arthur Currie."

Made Member of G. W. V. A.
Comrade Axon presented an address from the Great War Veterans' Association to Sir Arthur and notified him of his election as a member of the Victoria branch of the Great War Veterans' Association. The address was:

To General Sir Arthur Currie, G.C.M.G., K.C.B.
Sir and Comrade:

The Victoria Branch of the Great War Veterans' Association of Canada desires to extend a very hearty welcome on your return to the city from which you set forth in the early days of the war to render service to King and country. It has been our high privilege to serve under your command when the very existence of the Empire was at stake, and it is with feelings of pleasure and satisfaction we recall the successes gained by the Canadian Corps which, under your distinguished command, added lustre to the glorious traditions of the British Army.

While the people of Victoria were watching your military career, which reflected credit and honor upon our fair city, it was our privilege to serve with you, rendering service to the very limit of human courage and endurance; doing "our bit" to ensure the success of your skillfully conceived plans. And it is with pride and pleasure we greet you, our former commander, as a comrade to whom we may look for unstinted service in the fight for justice for the dependents of our honored dead, and all comrades who are suffering as a result of loyal service in the great fight for freedom and civilization.

Well-merited honors have been conferred upon you, but we hope that the highest honor we as returned men can confer upon a comrade will not be unappreciated, carrying with it as it does an expression of confidence and comradeship of the highest order. We therefore have much pleasure in presenting a Life Membership in the Victoria Branch of the Great War Veterans' Association, the Foundation Branch of the Dominion-wide organization, believing that the spirit of comradeship created on the battlefront is sufficiently real and lasting to justify our hope that you will honor us by accepting it and being received into the full privileges of comradeship in our great organization.

Comrades to the End.

"Let me say that this is a distinction in being elected a member of the G. W. V. A. that I prize very highly," replied Sir Arthur.

"As we have been comrades in the field I hope we will continue to extend the greatest degree of confidence in each other so that we will continue to be comrades in all that interests us. In France one often marvelled that men could do so much. As long as I am able to influence matters in any way it is my one hope to see that the men who fought in France have proper provision made for them now that they are home and also for the dependents of those who have returned.

"I shall not forget the loyal service of these men and as we were comrades in the field I hope we shall remain loyal comrades to the end."

To Support Men.

Comrade H. W. Hart, of the G. W. V. A., stepped forward and addressing Sir Arthur as "comrade," said that he noticed with pleasure that the General was wearing the badge of the G. W. V. A., "the ensigns of great comradeship on the fields of battle and peace."

"I am sure that we will have your support in all that goes to meet the needs of those in need as a result of those who have suffered in this war," said Mr. Hart. "We are proud to think now that you are back that we will have a man who will stand by

The classes will be in charge of J. Herbert Gray of 335 Poul Bay Road, a returned officer, who has lived in Argentine and Mexico.

"This is a good chance for returned soldiers and others who are looking ahead to acquire a knowledge of Spanish with view to preparing for trade appointments in the Mexico, Cuba, and South American countries," said Mr. Binns today.

"The instructor of the language of Castile was to be under the direction of Mr. Gray who was for many years employed in a large banking house in the Argentine and Nicaraguan Republics, and who has recently visited Mexico. He has been instrumental in inducing a party of four returned soldiers to commence farming operations in the State of Sinaloa, where they are getting along very well according to letters recently received from them. They write that the land is splendid, the labor cheap and plentiful and the price high and market unlimited for tomatoes."

"The classes will commence of Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. and application can be made either to office of the Board of School Trustees, City Hall, or to the teacher Room 24, New High School."

A BEDTIME STORY

UNCLE WIGGILY'S BIRTHDAY.

Copyright, 1919, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate. (By Howard R. Garis.)

Uncle Wiggily Longears, the bunny rabbit gentleman, sat on the edge of his bed in the hollow stump bungalow. "This is my birthday," said Uncle Wiggily to himself. "I must look for an extra nice sort of adventure."

So Uncle Wiggily slid down the stairs, and he was just going to tell Nurse Jan Fuzzy Wuzzy about it when he heard his birthday, so she could say "many happy returns," and the like of that, when the muskrat lady housekeeper called out:

"Oh, Wiggily, I wish you'd bring me in some wood for the fire. I'm in a hurry to get breakfast this morning."

"All right," spoke Uncle Wiggily, giving his pink nose an extra twinkle or two. "I'll tell Nurse Jane about my birthday after I bring in the wood," thought the bunny gentleman. But when he had brought in the wood Nurse Jane was in such a hurry, making the fire, getting the hot sassafras cakes ready with maple sugar gravy to pour over them, for the bunny's breakfast, that Uncle Wiggily found no time to tell her about his birthday.

"I'll wait until after breakfast," he thought. But no longer had he finished eating than the muskrat lady called to him.

"Oh, Uncle Wiggily! Will you just take a hop, skip and a jump over to Mrs. Wibblewobble's house? Ask the duck lady to lend me her lemon squeezer. I guess mine went to the moving pictures last night and forgot to come back."

"I will go with pleasure," answered the bunny rabbit, with a low and polite bow of his tall silk nose—excuse me—I mean his silk hat.

And as Mr. Longears hopped over the fields and through the woods, toward Mrs. Wibblewobble's house, he thought to himself:

"Well, I'll tell Nurse Jane about this being my birthday when I come back. It doesn't really matter, only I thought she'd like to know."

But as Uncle Wiggily hopped on through the woods he thought perhaps that, after all, Nurse Jane didn't really care whether it was his birthday or not.

"Maybe she thinks I'm getting too old to have a birthday," thought the

IN WOMAN'S DOMAIN

Mrs. E. H. Blackmore (nee Florence Greenhalgh), will hold her post-nuptial reception on Friday, October 10, from 3 to 5 o'clock, at 2645 Work Street.

The regular monthly meeting of the local board of the Victorian Order of Nurses will be held on Tuesday, October 7, at 2.30, 1804 Cook Street.

Mrs. Mischel Cherniavsky and Mrs. Blythe D. Rogers, two of Vancouver's recent brides, were the guests of honor at a dance given by Miss Jean Mollison at Glenoe Lodge on Friday night.

Rev. Norman E. Smith, the new incumbent at St. Barnabas Church, and Mrs. Smith are the guests of the Bishop of Columbia and Mrs. Schofield at Bishop's Close, pending the arrival of their household goods from Byng Inlet.

Miss Ida Gardner and Mr. Harold Lyman, the Edison artists that appear in recital to-morrow night at the Empress Hotel ballroom, arrived from Vancouver on this afternoon's boat. Mr. Herbert Kent, who had gone over to the Mainland to meet them, returned with them.

William Edward Glenn Curtis, 27, son of Glen H. Curtis, a wealthy American aviator and inventor, was married in Seattle on Saturday to Miss Elizabeth Rossmus Wright, 25, of New Haven, Conn., a pretty chorus girl, who appeared at the Royal Victoria Theatre here a week ago on the Orpheum Circuit in a musical sketch entitled, "Not Yet Marie." The wedding followed a love-at-first-sight courtship of less than twelve hours.

"J" Unit Chapter, I. O. D. E., will hold their first dance this season next Friday evening, October 10, in the Alexandra Club ballroom. Heaton's five-piece orchestra will supply the music and the affair promises to be a very enjoyable one. The work of other patriotic organizations has slackened during the past year, but the special work of "J" Unit Chapter, which is the supplying of comforts to convalescent soldiers, is still being vigorously carried on. For this cause the efforts of the chapter deserve every support.

Miss Helen Thompson, who recently severed her connection with the Foundation Company, was, before leaving, presented with a handsome set of Limoges china by the office staff in token of their esteem. Miss Thompson's departure from the Foundation Company marks the close of an extensive shipbuilding experience. She was stenographer at the Cameron-Genoa yards, when that company built the first ship, and when the Foundation Company was started she organized the stenographic department, finally employing about thirty girls.

The flannel dance to be given at the Royal Yacht Club to-morrow evening under the auspices of the Navy League will probably be the last of the informal dances to be given at the club this year, and for that reason is arousing much interest among the members of the younger social set. Among the ladies who are working energetically to secure its success is Mrs. P. C. Davis, a sister of the late Captain Fryatt, who, as might be expected, is keenly interested in the raising of funds for the equipment of a Boys' Naval Brigade Band. Proso fast he could hardly see, and he set down the molasses jug in Nurse Jane's lap, he was so excited.

"Why, I—I thought you didn't want me to have any birthday," said Uncle Wiggily, as he shook paws with Uncle Butter.

"Nonsense!" laughed Nurse Jane. "I just kept you on the jump so I could have time to fix up this little surprise party for you. Now, before you sit down, Susie Littell has something to give you."

"Many happy returns," spoke the little rabbit girl, as she gave Uncle Wiggily a lovely new red, white and blue striped rheumatism crutch.

"Oh—oh—thank you!" said the bunny.

"And here's something else!" chattered Billie Bushytail, the squirrel boy, as he gave Uncle Wiggily a dandy new tall, silk hat.

The bunny was too surprised to speak, so he sat down. And then each of his friends gave him something and Nurse Jane baked him some special honey cake. Then the animal children made molasses candy and there was a jolly time at Uncle Wiggily's birthday.

And when the fun was noisier, and most jolly, along came meekening the bad Pipisewah, hoping to get some of the bunny's souse. But when he looked in the window, and saw how happy Mr. Longears was, the Pipisewah said:

"I won't spoil his birthday. I'll catch him to-morrow!"

So the bunny rabbit had a nice time, and if the teapots don't find the butter down in the salt cellar, where the cup and saucer can't find it to slide down hill on, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and the rainbow.

ARRANGING EXHIBITS AT SAANICH TO-DAY

Active Preparations for Three-Day Fair at Saanichton; Judging To-morrow

To-day all is hustle and bustle at the Agricultural Hall at Saanichton, where the final preparations are being made in connection with the fifty-first annual Fair of the North and South Saanich Agricultural Society. Throughout the whole of to-day and to-morrow morning the many exhibitors will be occupied in putting their exhibits in place in preparation for the judging which is to commence to-morrow afternoon.

The Fair will be opened to the public to-morrow afternoon. It is anticipated that General Sir Arthur Currie will perform the opening ceremony, if his many engagements permit—a tentative promise to this effect having been received by the secretary, Colin H. Chisholm, from the distinguished soldier.

The prize list issued by the Society is an imposing one. Among the various prizes offered to school children in connection with the fair is that from the B. C. Entomological Society of this city. This Society some time ago wrote and offered to give two prizes to school students for the best collection of insects, such as to include those of importance in agriculture as well as those of general interest. The Entomological Society got in touch with the various school teachers in the district and in consequence it is expected that there will be a large entry in this particular section.

BRAN MUFFINS.

Roger W. Babson of the Department of Labor said at a dinner in Washington:

"Speaking of labor, it has been a tough job to eat some of the health foods that were turned out during the war."

"A young lady said to a young man at a Washington dance:

"Are you the same young man who ate so many of my bran muffins at the Red Cross tea last fall?"

"No," he answered, "and what's more the doctor says I never will be."

GIRLS' CONFERENCE

WAS HUGE SUCCESS

Big Attendance at Closing Session Yesterday; Many Speakers

Yesterday the three-day session of the Canadian Girls in Training conference concluded with a mass meeting in the auditorium of the Metropolitan Methodist Church. The Rev. W. E. Galloway, western field secretary for Sunday Schools and Young People's work in the Methodist Church of Canada, delivered an impressive address to a large and interested audience, mainly composed of girls.

Splendid attendance has marked the conference throughout, and the interest shown has imparted considerable stimulus to the movement.

Saturday Sessions.

Saturday's sessions opened with the election of Miss Gladys Thorpe as president and Miss Louise Weston as secretary. Following this came the presentation of the four sides of the programme, Miss Winn speaking on the intellectual; Miss Henderson on the physical; Mrs. Laudendale on the spiritual and Miss Wark on the service standards. The group elections and a demonstration of the initiation ceremony closed the morning session.

After lunch the conference photograph was taken and the afternoon session began with a devotional period. Rev. W. E. Galloway conducted a leader's round table, and Miss Harvey a girls' council hour.

Visited Gardens.

Mrs. Schofield's practical talk to the girls was very inspiring. She spoke of the great need of the world and the wonderful opportunity for service, imploring them to give their lives to the best things and to be something and do something for God and their fellow-beings.

Through the kindness of Lady Barnard the delegates had the pleasure of being shown through the beautiful grounds surrounding Government House between 5 and 6 o'clock. At 6.30 the conference enjoyed a bountiful supper prepared by the ladies of the various churches.

After the supper was over and the delegates had retired to their rooms, Miss Isobel Harvey spoke on "The Challenge of the Fourfold Life," after which greetings were given by Rev. J. G. Inkster, Rev. Dr. Clay and Rev. H. S. Osborne.

Mrs. Schiffield's practical talk to the girls was very inspiring. She spoke of the great need of the world and the wonderful opportunity for service, imploring them to give their lives to the best things and to be something and do something for God and their fellow-beings.

SPLENDID TYPE OF WOMAN TO MIGRATE

Thousands of "Waacs," "Wrens" and "Wraps" to Come to Dominions

Miss Watkin, the special commissioner sent out by the British authorities to study the conditions in New Zealand in connection with the emigration of women, left on the Niagara on Saturday, accompanied by Miss Gilder, who has been undertaking a similar mission in British Columbia. During her stay in this city Miss Watkin was a guest at the Alexandra Club.

Splendid Emigrants.

A propos of the mission of these women, the following article from a recent issue of the London Daily Chronicle will be of timely interest.

A "Daily Chronicle" representative yesterday made inquiries to the prospects of the thousands of British women, freed from their war activities, who are expecting to emigrate.

Women in great numbers are inquiring for passages but the shortage of shipping accommodation makes it unlikely that there will be facilities for many women to travel overseas until early next year.

Women who served their country as Waacs, Wrens, or Wraps, are expected to make splendid emigrants. In order that they may start the venture under the best possible auspices, a special section has been devoted to their needs by the Oversea Settlement Committee, 59, Victoria Street, S.W. This committee, which was set up by the Colonial Office to deal with men and women who have served with His Majesty's Forces who wish to emigrate, has Lord Milner for its president, and is in constant consultation with the High Commissioners and Agents-General for the Dominions.

The Commissioners.

Six women of wide experience have been sent out on missions to Canada, Australia, and New Zealand. They are:

Miss Gilder: Was a student of medicine for two years at Toronto University; worked for seven years with the British Women's Emigration Association; served with the Ministry of Munitions, and later with the V.R.A.F.

Miss Gladys Pott: Was closely connected with the Women's Land Army; travelling inspector for the Women's Branch, Board of Agriculture; and later secretary of the sub-committee of the Ministry of Agriculture, which considered the position of women in agriculture; Governor of Reading University.

Miss Fugate Jones: Served with V.A.D.; principal commandant in Salonika; has practical knowledge of farming.

Miss Chomley: An Australian with a wide knowledge of the Commonwealth.

Mrs. Simm: Chief woman representative of the National Amalgamated Union of Labor.

Miss Watkin: Had valuable experience with the Land Army.

These delegates have gone out to investigate the possibilities primarily for the benefit of ex-Service women. Their reports should also form a valuable source of information for other women who intend to emigrate. The report from the delegates who visited Canada may be expected shortly.

Instructional Courses.

In addition to their work of investigation the women delegates are to explain to the people of the Dominions the change which has come over the women of Britain since the war shocked them out of their old habits. Settlers and farmers of the new countries will be told how the girls made good in the Army and the Navy, in the Air Force, and the nursing services, in the Land Army, and the Women's Forestry Corps.

It is hoped that courses of instruction on subjects bearing on the new life to which they are going will be arranged for the intending emigrants, in co-operation with the representatives of Dominions in London.

These classes will probably follow the lines of the Khaki University which the Canadian Government set up in Bedford-square, and to which the young English wives of Canadian soldiers went, in order that they might be taught about life in Canada.

A free passage for applicants who are approved by the representative of the Dominion in which they wish to settle is an essential part of the scheme.

The "Daily Chronicle" representative was assured that the women who are wanted in the Dominions are those who are prepared to do either housework or agricultural work.

To Renew Complexion Without Cosmetics

If the excessive use of cosmetics only knew the impression her artificially really makes upon her, she would quickly seek means of regaining a natural complexion. Let her acquire the mercurized wax habit, discarding make-up entirely, and she will soon have the complexion that women envy and men adore. It is so easy to get an ounce of mercurized wax at any drug store, and it is so easy to use it. Wash the face off, in almost invisible flaky particles. In a week or so there is a brand new complexion, clear, velvety, soft, of girlish color and texture.

The treatment is so simple, harmless, and so marvellously effective, the wonder is that every woman whose skin is withered, discolored, rough, freckled, or pimply, has not already adopted it.

SCHOOL TRUSTEES.

To the Editor.—I beg to draw your attention to the state of affairs at the North Ward School.

To-day at 2 p. m. the children were sent home, they being informed there would be no school and as this is the second afternoon during the present week this has occurred I enquired of one of the teachers and was informed that the furnace was being repaired and the doctor and nurse had ordered the children home.

It seems strange to me that the wisecracks on the Board of School Trustees could not have had the furnace repaired during the two months the school was closed for the summer holidays, and in view of the enormous amount of time the children have had to lose during the past twelve months their education seems to be of only secondary importance to the Board.

PRESERVING FRUIT.

To the Editor.—For the benefit of many, who like myself, still have fruit to can and are unable to obtain sufficient sugar to do so, I would like to submit the following receipt taken from Farmers' Bulletin 829, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C., June, 1917:

"All fruits can be canned successfully for future use for jelly making, pie filling, salad purposes, etc., without the use of sugar by simply adding hot water instead of hot syrups. Any sugar needed may be added on opening product."

"In canning fruit without sugar, can the product the day it is picked, cull, stem, seed and clean fruit by placing in strainer and pouring cold water over it. Pack the product carefully in hot glass jars or tin cans until full. Use tablespoon- or wooden ladle for packing purposes. Pour boiling hot water over the product in the hot jar. Place rubbers and caps in position, not tight. If using tin can, seal completely. Place product in the sterilizer vat, etc., and sterilize for the length of time given to the particular type of outfit used:

Hot water bath, home made or commercial ..... 30
Water seal, 214 ..... 20
Five pounds steam pressure ..... 12
Ten pounds steam pressure ..... 10

After sterilizing, remove jars. Seal jars, invest to cool and test the joints. Wrap in paper to prevent bleaching and store in a dry, cool place. If tin cans are used it will be found advantageous to plunge them into cold water immediately after sterilization to cool them quickly.

VICTORIA LOOKS JUST SPLENDID, SAID CORPS COMMANDER TO TIMES

"It looks just splendid; never did Victoria look brighter and more cheerful than it appeared to do this morning. It is indeed good to be home again. And such weather, too!" So did General Currie express himself in a few minutes' chat with the Times representative at the Parliament Buildings just before noon to-day.

Although there are no outward or visible signs that Sir Arthur is less robust than was his wont, he confessed that his medical advisor already had issued an ultimatum which would not even a Corps Commander would find it easy to disregard.

Sir Arthur expects to be exceedingly busy fulfilling a number of engagements during the next two weeks; after that, however, he hopes to be able to slip away for a brief rest.

CHIEF ENGINEER TO COME WITH TOLMIE TO LOOK OVER DOCK SITE

Action on the new Esquimalt drydock seems to be foreshadowed in a telegram received this morning from Hon. Dr. S. F. Tolmie, Minister of Agriculture, by J. O. Cameron, President of the Victoria Board of Trade.

Dr. Tolmie's message reads as follows: "I will arrive on Tuesday afternoon and will have with me Mr. Worsfold, chief engineer of the Public Works Department. I would like to have the Mayor, also the Reeve of Esquimalt and other citizens who are interested attend a conference with Mr. Worsfold regarding the drydock matter. A visit to the site will also be advisable. Would you kindly arrange for a place of meeting immediately after the arrival of the boat. I am also advising Mr. Kingham, chairman of my committee, of this matter."

The meeting desired by Dr. Tolmie will be held in the Board of Trade rooms, Mr. Cameron stated this afternoon, and will be open to all interested.

engines are at present in use. This larger equipment allows larger loads to be hauled and will enable the line to keep open later into the fall than formerly.

Geo. T. Edwards, who is interested with T. J. Kirkpatrick in the Oakwood group of claims at Terrace, is in Smithers, says The Interior News, to spend some time, having received a good impression last year. Mr. Edwards is very enthusiastic over the present prosperity of that section, and like every other honest-to-goodness prospector sees the mines of his section about one jump only behind the prominence which is the just reward.

Speaking of his own property, which consists of eight claims on Victoria Hill, only one mile from Terrace, Mr. Edwards says they have a twenty-foot ledge of ore carrying good copper and gold values.

At the Cordillera mine work is progressing rapidly on the installation of a development concentrator, having a capacity of about twenty tons. The ore from this property captured first prize at Prince Rupert in the gold-copper section, and Manager James Wells is hurrying work preliminary to mining on a larger basis. Their concentrator will be operated by gasoline engines, three engines being taken up to the property last week.

Smelter Returns.

If the major properties of the Consolidated Mining & Smelting Company of Canada maintain their tonnage shipping for the rest of this year, their total shipments to the company smelter at Trail, will considerably exceed last year's record of 246,796 tons. Up to September 21, which is the last week for which returns are to hand, the properties of the Consolidated scattered over the Kootenay and Boundary were credited at the smelter with 215,514 tons of ore. The Le Roi, which last year shipped 54,918 tons, is only an insignificant shipper this year, but on the other hand the Sullivan property is far ahead of last year's record.

Including custom ore from the various private shippers, the smelter found for the current year on September 21, when its receipts stood at 253,124 tons.

Getting out Ore.

The Mayor Camp in the Upper Stewart River country continues to develop well, and it is stated that several thousand tons of ore will be ready for shipment with the opening of navigation next year. Some fifty claims have been staked on Keno Hill, at the head of Lightning Creek, a tributary of Duncan Creek. The Guggenheims are reported to have taken an option on the main group of claims, and to have sent in men and supplies in order that work may be continued during the winter. The claims are situated on a high ridge of the Rockies, 1,500 feet above the timber line.

Prince of Wales Ball Surplus.—The Prince of Wales ball committee has received the following acknowledgment from the Victoria Relief Fund, late 24th of May Relief Fund: "On behalf of the Committee of the Victoria Relief Fund, Victoria, I desire to acknowledge receipt of cheque value $926.65, received from the Committee of Prince of Wales Ball Fund. My Committee appreciate the action of the Ball Committee in making this donation, and can assure them that this money will be spent in a judicious manner, helping needy and deserving cases of orphans, widows, and ex-service men during the coming winter.—ROBERT MACNICOL, Hon. Secy, Victoria Relief Fund."

Memorial Tablet.—A memorial tablet has been erected in St. Paul's Church, Esquimalt, to the officers and men who lost their lives when H. M. C. S. Galliano went down with all hands in Queen Charlotte Sound in October, 1918. The memorial consists of a brass tablet upon which is engraved the following inscription: "In memory of the balance of the officers, officers and ship's company of the A. P. S. Galliano, lost at sea 30th Oct., 1918. Erected by the officers and men of the Esquimalt Naval Station. The tablet will be unveiled at the evening service October 12, at which service the balance of the subscriptions will be handed in with the collection, which will be in aid of the Naval Church. The tablet was engraved at a cost of $60 by G. Crowther."

NEWS AND NOTES OF THE MINES

The Premier Mine.

In the Portland Canal News this week Chas. Bunting tells the story of how the Premier mine was lost and found. The vein of ore almost paralleled the tunnel which was driven by H. R. Plate. Had the men driven two feet to the right they would have been in 15 ore, while five feet ahead would have brought them into high grade ore. It is an outstanding example of a great mine being missed by a small margin.

Telling of the mine, as it is known to-day, the article says:

"In the block of ground 800 feet long and fully 100 feet wide as proved by surface cut and underground work and from the surface to the present level, a tonnage of at least 1,000,000 can be safely estimated with a gold and silver content of $30 a ton, making a total of $30,000,000. A thorough sampling of all the present workings and openings gives an average value of well over $30 a ton."

"As the ore shoot is bigger, stronger and far richer in the tunnel than on the surface it is safe to assume it will continue for at least fifty feet below the present workings."

"In that event—and any engineer familiar with this ore body would concede that much—a further 10,000,000 can be added to the above total."

Nickel Sulphate.

One of the beautiful strips of crystallized nickel sulphate, which were such an ornament to the splendid exhibit of ores and smelter products shown by the Consolidated Mining & Smelting Company at the recent Nelson fair, has been presented to E. W. Wideman, the local assayer, by R. Truett, who was in charge of the exhibit. The crystals, of a greenish cast, are formed upon a lead strip, which was hung in the solution from which they were deposited.

Although the Trail smelter has not yet disposed of any of this nickel sulphate commercially, it has accumulated a considerable quantity of it, and it could be disposed of at any time. This by-product is being formed all the time, and is a standing refutation of the statement made a few years ago in the annual report of the Provincial Minister of Mines, that the reported discovery of nickel was erroneous.

This curious statement, is to be found in the annual report covering 1913 from the assay office.

"Some years ago, in this province, nickel was erroneously reported from several places. It was found that the assayers let a part of the iron in solution pass through the filter paper, then precipitated it and supposed it to be nickel, when it had been properly precipitated and filtered off in the first place it would have left nothing to be precipitated later."

As a matter of fact, assayers in the upper country have not been taking one iron in the nickel determination, for the last ten or twelve years, and it is conceded now that nickel exists in small quantities in the rocks in this country.

The point has not been reached, however, when an allowance is made by the smelter for the nickel content.

TO BAR ALIENS FROM THE STATES

Republicans in Congress
Decide to Keep Restrictions in Force

Washington, Oct. 6.—With the United States threatened with an influx of millions of aliens seeking to escape the war tax burdens of Europe, the Republican leaders in Congress have decided to put up the bars and keep them until a permanent immigration policy can be established. Immigration is now rigidly restricted by war-time regulations under which the immigrant must obtain a passport from his government and its visa by an American consul. United States consuls are instructed to refuse visas to undesirable persons.

Expedient Favored

The House Committee on Foreign Affairs will consider this week the administration proposal to extend these war-time restrictions for one year following the formal proclamation of peace. The Republican leaders are in favor of the passage of this legislation as a temporary expedient to enable Congress to consider with greater deliberation the pending bills to restrict immigration permanently to those aliens who are deemed desirable as prospective American citizens.

Decline

As the result of the war the number of immigrants declined from 1,215,489 in 1914, which was surpassed only by the total in 1907, to 110,619 in 1918. In the year ended June 30, 1919, there were 141,132 immigrant aliens admitted, while 123,522 departed. Non-immigrant aliens admitted were 95,889 and non-emigrant aliens departing were 92,709.

REPATRIATION OF CANADIANS PRESSED

London, Oct. 6.—Headquarters has warned all men of the Canadian overseas forces on indefinite leave, awaiting repatriation with dependents, to report immediately to the discharge depot at Buxton. They also are notified that free repatriation for dependents will not be allowed after December 31, except where statutory declaration is made, showing that it was impossible for those concerned to proceed to Canada before that date.

This does not refer to men who have taken discharge in the United Kingdom. Therefore it does not affect men on whose behalf an appeal is now being made to the Government for repatriation at the public expense.

REDS WANT ONE MORE TO CINCH WORLD PENNIANT

Handed Fourth Defeat to White Sox To-day, Five—Nothing

ELLER PITCHES GREAT GAME

Comiskey Park, Chicago, Oct. 6.—Cincinnati won the fifth game of the world's series from the Chicago Sox here to-day by a score of 5 to 0. Eller's pitching for the visitors was almost a perfect exhibition of twirling skill. He allowed the American leaguers three hits scattered into as many innings, retiring them by the strike-out route and was himself in the play in the sixth inning that netted Cincinnati four runs. In this round he got a double and by good basing running landed on third. The support given him was flawless. On the other hand, Williams, while he allowed but four hits, was slightly wild, his team mates did not support him as well as the Reds supported Eller and the visitors succeeded in hitting at opportune times. The series now stands: Cincinnati, four won, one lost; Chicago, one won, four lost.

BACON AND HAM BEING INVESTIGATED AT TERMINAL CITY

Vancouver, Oct. 6.—Before Lieutenant Colonel Hulme, Commissioner of the Board of Commerce, prices of hams and bacon were investigated here to-day. James T. Reid, a Granville Street dealer, was on the stand all forenoon and was complimented on his sincerity and willingness as a witness.

He admitted that on an investment of $12,000, he had made last year a profit of $9,000 besides paying himself a salary. He described in detail how he had reached the prices which he had charged and the percentage he had worked on. He blamed the Government for the high cost of food products, for he said that when wheat was fixed at $2 a bushel farmers gave up growing most other things.

PROMINENT SEATTLE SHIPPING MAN DIES

Seattle, Wash., Oct. 6.—James D. Trenholme, vice-president and general manager of Thorndyke-Trenholme, Inc., shippers and brokers here, died yesterday morning, at his home, 1000 East Seventy-Fifth Street. Mr. Trenholme, who was prominent in Seattle's business life and in Democratic circles, was fifty-four years old. In 1914 he was a candidate for mayor.

Mr. Trenholme was born June 22, 1865, at Tremholmeville, province of Quebec. His parents were Mr. and Mrs. John Trenholme. After being educated in the public schools and at St. Francis College, Richmond, Que., he came to the United States in 1892, settling in North Dakota, where he represented various English mortgage companies until 1898. In 1899 he came to Seattle, and was one of the organizers of the Northwestern Steamship Company, now the Alaska Steamship Company, and was secretary-treasurer and manager of that company until his resignation in 1908.

Mr. Trenholme was one of the organizers of the Northwestern Fisheries Company, and became its manager.

TROOPS KEEP ORDER IN GARY, INDIANA

Gary, Ind., Oct. 6.—State troops to-day patrolled the avenues leading to steel plants and parts of the city where disorders were liable to develop, four companies having been brought here late last night from Indiana Harbor and East Chicago, Ind., where twelve companies were quartered after rioting was resumed here by strike sympathizers.

Chicago, Oct. 6.—Clashes between strike sympathizers and the police and special deputies during the last thirty-six hours in the Chicago district did not deter heads of steel mills from attempting to start additional plants to-day, the beginning of the third week of the walk-out. Company officials claimed they had assurance that large numbers of men would return to work.

Union leaders increased their picket lines in an effort to prevent desertion. John Fitzpatrick, chairman of the national committee conducting the strike, said many members were being taken into the union every day.

LATE CZAR'S CHATEAU BOUGHT BY AMERICANS

London, Oct. 6.—A dispatch from Warsaw says: The American Red Cross has purchased the chateau of the late Emperor Nicholas of Russia in the forest of Bialystok. In the days when Nicholas ruled over the Russians he often journeyed to Bialystok forest with a numerous suite, where hunting parties would be organized. The 120 rooms formerly occupied by the late Emperor's guests now shelter Polish babies for whom the Red Cross is caring.

Eller duplicated his feat of the second inning by striking out all three batters in the third. He was pitching remarkably ball. This is also a record in a world's series game for the pitcher to retire the batsmen in two successive innings by striking them out. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Fourth Inning. First half—Daubert up. Foul strike one, foul strike two. Daubert hoisted an easy one that Felsch had hardly to move to take. Groh up.

Strike one, ball one. Groh fell down to avoid Williams' second pitch. Strike two. Groh also hoisted to Felsch, the latter making an easy catch. Rousch up. Strike one. Rousch hit hard at Williams' first offering but did not connect. Strike two. He struck at the second ball but failed to hit it. Ball one, foul, foul, ball two, foul, foul. Rousch lost control of his bat and it flew into the pitcher's box, but he managed to hit the ball for foul. Rousch reached first safely when his drive went through Rieberg. The latter was charged with an error. Duncan up. Ball one, strike one. Rousch stole second. Schalk allowed the ball to get away from him and was charged with a passed ball also. Ball two, strike two. Duncan ended the inning by popping an easy fly to Jackson. No runs, no hits, one error.

Second half—Weaver up. Ball one, strike one. Eller grounded over Ed. Daubert and tossed to Daubert for the put-out. Jackson up. Strike one. Jackson went out the same way, Eller taking his slow grounder and throwing to Daubert. Felsch up. Strike one, foul, strike two. Felsch struck out. Eller was still working in great form. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Fifth Inning. First half—Kopf up. Foul strike one. Kopf singled to left centre. It was a drive that cleared over Ed. Collins' head. Neale up. Foul strike one. Neale attempted to sacrifice but the ball bounced foul. Strike two. His second attempt likewise resulted in failure. Foul, foul. Neale reached first on a grounder to Ed. Collins, but he serviced at first. Rieberg up. Ball one, strike one. Neale attempted to steal, Schalk making a beautiful throw to Rieberg. Strike one, ball two, foul strike two. The crowd applauded when a fan attempted to catch Rieberg's foul in a large megaphone. Rieberg fled to Felsch.

No runs, one hit, no errors. Second half—Gandil up. Rath took Gandil's grounder and threw to Daubert, putting him out. Rieberg up. Strike one, ball one, strike two. Rieberg sent a fast grass-cutter to Groh, who threw him out at first. Schalk up. Foul strike one. Schalk walked and it went to Duncan, but it was so fast that it was called a ball. Williams hurried over to first and one, strike two, foul. Williams fanned. No runs, one hit, no errors.

CRUSADERS OPPOSE BOLSHEVIKI NOW

New Religious Order Formed at Omsk to Fight Leninites

London, Oct. 6.—(Associated Press)—A religious order has been formed at Omsk, named after St. Hermogenes, ancient patriarch of Moscow, who in troublous times in the past roused the people of Russia to fight the enemies of the country, according to information which has reached here from Omsk.

The intended activities of the order are varied and include the formation of detachment of "Crusaders" to volunteer for service at the front. These troops are united by the idea that the conflict with Bolshevism is the war of Christianity against hostile forces and the cross, worn by every Crusader, is symbolic of this idea. The Crusaders also, besides being obedient to ordinary military discipline, are subject to special regulations, according to which the slightest act of insubordination constitutes a breach of honor.

The chiefs are appointed by the high command, and the founders of the order include not only priests, but also professors, politicians and men of letters.

SEVENTY-FIVE KILLED IN A BAD RAILROAD SMASH IN MEXICO

SWIFT CURRENT CROWD COMPELLED A REEVE TO KISS THE FLAG

Swift Current, Sask., Oct. 6.—P. M. Friessen, Reeve of the rural municipality of Rush Lake, was taken in hand by citizens following the departure of the Prince of Wales and accompanied to salute the flag and sing "God Save the King." The alleged action of Friessen which caused the trouble was that he neglected to bare his head when he stood on the railway platform as the band struck up the National Anthem. Chief Inspector Parker of Scotland Yard, who is with the Prince, severely reprimanded him.

TUBERCULOSIS FREE HERDS OF CATTLE

Ottawa, Oct. 6.—Regulations covering the establishment and maintenance of "tuberculosis free" herds of cattle are provided in the Order-in-Council published in The Canada Gazette. As the United States has a system of accrediting tuberculosis free herds, cattle of which are admitted into Canada without inspection for tuberculosis, the system is introduced in Canada on the announced willingness of the United States authorities to reciprocate in admitting Canadian cattle under the same conditions.

FARMING PAYS

London, Oct. 6.—Intensive farming is profitable in England, according to a statement made by A. E. Bryant of Preston Bissett, at a labor meeting in Buckingham. For his product, wheat and beans, he received $3,735, leaving him a profit of $2,575.

BE SUSPICIOUS OF TENDER GUMS

Be suspicious of any tenderness or bleeding of the gums. This is usually the first stage of Pyorrhea—an insidious disease of the gums that destroys the teeth and undermines bodily health.

Gradually the gums become spongy. They inflame, then shrink, thus exposing the unenameled tooth-beds to the ravages of decay. Tiny openings in the gums form gateways for disease germs to enter the system. Medical science has traced many ills to these infecting germs in the gums weakened by Pyorrhea.

They are now known to be a frequent cause of indigestion, anemia, rheumatism and other serious conditions.

So watch carefully for that first tenderness or bleeding of the gums. Try Forhan's immediately. It positively prevents Pyorrhea (Riggs' Disease) if used in time and used consistently.

And in preventing Pyorrhea it guards against other ills.

WANTS TO SEE MEN SHE KNEW IN LONDON

Miss Mallam, of King George Hospital, Looking Up Returned Soldiers

Miss M. Mallam, who for four years was Canadian Red Cross visitor to the King George Hospital at London, England, has reached Victoria in the course of a Dominion-wide tour and is particularly anxious to get in touch with any returned men with whom she came in contact during her work. While visiting at the King George Hospital, Miss Mallam came to know intimately over three thousand Canadian soldiers and her visit to this country is in the nature of a "follow-up" to enable her to renew acquaintance with as many of them as possible.

To a Times representative this morning, Miss Mallam stated that she had been accorded a wonderful reception by returned men throughout Canada. Until she reached Winnipeg she was armed with an address book containing scores of addresses of men who she had promised to look up should she come to Canada, but unfortunately this was lost in the prairie city. She hopes that her former soldier-friends will try to get in touch with her while she is in the city. She is the guest of Mrs. Lowe, 16 Bushby Street, telephone No. 1087L.

Although Miss Mallam only arrived in the city on Saturday, she has already received calls from several men who benefitted by her ministrations in London. As one of the patients from Esquimalt Convalescent Hospital said to a Times reporter this morning, "You cannot say anything too good for her. She was simply splendid to the men in the hospital in London. I was one of those to whom she brought gifts of all kinds, as well as cheery encouragement and kind words." Miss Mallam expects to remain in the city until the end of the week and will then leave to retrace her steps through the Dominion.

WOMAN SO ILL COULD NOT WALK

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Her to Health.

Perth Amboy, N.J.—"For three years I suffered with a severe female trouble, was nervous, had backache and a pain in my side most of the time. I had dizzy spells and was often so faint I could not walk across the floor. The doctor said I would have to have an operation. I read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in my newspaper, and tried it. Now I am better, feel strong, have no pains, backache or dizzy spells. Every one tells me how well I look, and I tell them to use Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—that is what makes me feel well and look well. I recommended it to my sister and she is using it now. You can use this letter if you wish for it is certainly a grand remedy for a woman's ills."—Mrs. MARTHA STANISLAWSKI, 524 Penn St., Perth Amboy, N.J.

For forty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been overcoming such serious conditions as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, dizziness, and nervous prostration of women, and is now considered the standard remedy for such ailments.

DINNER TO-NIGHT TO GENERAL CURRIE

Citizens of Victoria Will Have First Opportunity to Hear Corps Commander

For the first time since he left Victoria over five years ago as a Lieut.-Colonel and rose to the highest position in the Canadian forces, the citizens of Victoria will have an opportunity of hearing General Sir Arthur Currie tell of the gallant deeds of the Canadian Corps at the reception and dinner being given at 7.30 o'clock this evening at the Armories. The reception, which is being organized by the British Campaigners' Association, is tendered to General Currie, the Corps Commander, in his honor and that of the famous Canadian Corps which he commanded in France, and it is anticipated that there will be a large assemblage, not only of the soldiers but also of the general public of Victoria. Although it seems that this dinner is for the troops that is not the idea—the dinner is for the citizens and soldiers. The band of the G. W. V. A., led by Bandmaster Miller, and composed of the veterans of the war, will supply the music, and will lead in the singing of the various trench songs which will be a feature of the occasion. For the citizens the dinner is a rare treat, as the British Campaigners' Association, which will be issued to all who attend. This newspaper is a reproduction of the type of newspaper issued by the units in France, and with the menu card, which takes the form of the popular rum jar—will be an attractive souvenir.

Address of Welcome. The address of welcome to General Sir Arthur Currie will be given by Major the Rev. W. Barton, the well-known chaplain who went from Victoria with the first contingent, and General Sir Arthur Currie will reply. Other than these speeches—and the opening address by Major Walter Bagby, president of the British Campaigners' Association, there will be no other—for it is not intended to crowd the programme with speeches. There will be some interesting features—the programme being in effect a regular trench night. The tables have been arranged in shape of a fan spread about the head table, at which the guest of honor and Lady Currie and family will be seated, and the representatives of the various service organizations and patriotic societies. Many of the units attending the function are occupying seats together at tables, which are being decorated with the trophies of the units. In addition to the various service organizations, tables have been secured by the Board of Trade, Rotary Club, Medical Association and various other associations. The ticket committee will be in attendance at the office in the Belmont Building—telephone 2520—until 6 p.m. this evening for the sale of tickets, and those who are unable to secure their tickets then will be able to secure them at the door.

Rector is Inducted.—A big congregation filled St. Barnabas Church yesterday morning for the induction of the Rev. Norman E. Smith, late of Byng Inlet, who has succeeded the Rev. Ernest G. Miller in the incumbency. The impressive induction ceremony was conducted by Right Rev. the Bishop of Columbia, who has recently returned to the diocese after six weeks' absence at the Anglican conference at Toronto.

LABOR CANDIDATE AGAINST BIG ARMY

Barnard Opens Campaign With Well Attended Meeting at Crystal Theatre

Between three and four hundred people were on hand Saturday night at the Crystal Theatre to hear T. A. Barnard open his campaign against Dr. F. S. Tolmie, and the Federated Labor Party candidate got lots of applause from his supporters as he gave some of the reasons he is running for office, delivered a lot of satire on the "bunch at Ottawa" and declared his stand if he should be elected.

After a brief speech by the chairman, W. E. Pierce, Dan Poupard gave an address. The one great object in view in entering a candidate, he said, was to embarrass the present Government. They felt it was their duty to do so on every possible occasion in view of the Government's record. They hoped to precipitate a general election and nothing would suit them better than to do this. Speaking of the choice of Mr. Barnard as the Labor Party candidate he said that there was a new and powerful factor in society to be dealt with, the returned soldier factor and its dependents. Mr. Barnard represented this factor, he was also a labor man and he was a man they believed they could hold. He would have to consent to a certain amount of control. He believed the executive would ask him for an undated resignation which they would hold in case Mr. Barnard did not fulfill the wishes of the people who had sent him to Ottawa.

A Local Preacher. Mr. Poupard presented a brief history of the candidate, showing he worked on a farm in England at the age of nine years for thirty-five cents a week, joined the Farm Laborers' Union at the age of twelve years, served three years in the navy, afterwards joined the Deep Sea Fishermen's Union. He came to Canada in 1907 and joined the Steam Engineers' Union, enlisted in the A. S. C. in 1914, transferring to the 47th Battalion to proceed overseas. He was severely wounded in July, 1916, and was refused for any further service. He had been a Methodist local preacher for fifteen years in England and Canada.

"The Calamity." Mr. Barnard, introduced by the chairman as "The Calamity" in view of a statement made by one of Dr. Tolmie's supporters that it would be a calamity to Victoria if he were elected, stated at the outset, he had no idea which way the election was going. He would rather, in any case, lose as the workingmen's representative than win as a capitalist's representative. "There will be no mud slinging first from this end," he announced, "but I won't promise what will happen if the other side start first." He was not out to attack Dr. Tolmie only so far as he must be attacked as a member of the Union Government.

The Government had not fulfilled its promises, he claimed, and in view of the fact that the last election was called to elect a parliament for winning the war and the war was now over they should automatically resign. Declaring "we have an autocracy in Canada that would make Germany smile, Mr. Barnard launched an attack against increasing the strength of Canada's standing army. "We have always understood that a standing army was a menace to democracy, yet we find Canada's standing army doubled. If it is wrong for Germany to have a big army it is wrong for Canada. Justice knows no geographical boundary. The idea is to make jobs for those fellows who have been over in the Old Country wearing red hats. When those staff fellows come back they don't propose to use the pick and shovel. Get me!" He pointed to the fact that although the wonderful name of the Princess Patricia was exploited, and three dollars a day was offered, yet recruits were scarce as an indication that the country did not want the standing army increased.

On the Bonus. Speaking on the bonus for returned men, Mr. Barnard explained that he had voted for the amended resolution which only limited the amount of the bonus by the country's ability to pay. "Before the bonus we must see that all dependents and totally disabled men get enough to live on. If they cannot give them any more," he said, "let's share up equal. Give the private's wife the same as the general's. It costs them both the same to live."

The speaker expressed himself in favor of the Government setting a minimum wage, so that a man could sell his labor on a reasonable basis as a man sells his wheat. Regarding Asiatics, he declared that if the employer were forced to pay them the same rate of pay as the white man received, and the Chinese were forced to live on the same standard the only Asiatic trouble would be to provide the ships to take them home. They were only here to exploit the white man, and the employer would have no use for them if he had to pay them the same wages. Mr. Barnard made a vigorous attack on Government by Order-in-Council.

SUN PRAISES THE EXTRAVAGANZA

"Oh! Baby" Declared Best of Eight Year Series at Royal
 Victoria To-night

A writer for The Vancouver Sun has a good deal of respect for A. B. Marcus, whose extravaganza, "Oh Baby!" will open at the Royal Victoria Theatre to-night. He says: "Our respect for Mr. Marcus is due to his honesty in telling the public just what kind of a show it is paying its money to see. Here is what the programme says, so judge for yourself: 'An entertainment designed with the sole intention of amusing lovers of beauty, wit, melody and motion without approaching the limits of good taste'; and further, 'Our customers are hereby notified not to look for a plot. There ain't no such animal,' etc. All of which has our heartiest endorsement. But don't think for a moment that the Marcus show is not worth giving the once over. As a matter of fact, it is a rattling good entertainment of its kind with a number of clever people making a capital job of the work allotted to them. The chorus girls, so far as we could judge, are good looking, and they wear some really stunning wardrobes—some more, some less. Moreover, they sing well and are not slouches by any means in their dancing. The staging and lighting effects are also intelligently carried out. There was, however, one fly in the ointment, namely, the playing of the orchestra, which gave the chorus and principals lots of unnecessary worry. The musicians appeared unfamiliar with the music and the result was that several of the more important dances suffered badly. It is to be hoped this tragedy will not occur again during the remainder of the company's engagement here. In leading comedy situations Mike Sacks, a Hebrew dialect comedian, appeared to excellent advantage. Mike, of course, has a fondness for monopolizing the spotlight, but it was just as well that he did so, for he was just the sort of show. He is a versatile sort of chap, and to his credit he drew abundance of laughter without resorting to vulgarity. Mike also did a little bit on his own account at the piano. Then there was Joe Baker, Bob Alexander, Miss Richey Covey, Miss Flo Wilkinson and others too numerous to mention who deserve praise for their acceptable efforts. An engaging dance feature was that presented by Mlle. Anna Vaila and Mons. Armand Zerman, who aroused admiration for their artistic delineation of a series of ancient and modern creations."

CHARMING SIXTEEN
YEAR OLD GIRL
IN ROYAL FILM

Dorris Lee who will be seen as Betty Marvin supporting Charles Ray in his latest Thomas H. Ince-Paramount picture "Hay Foot, Straw Foot," which will be shown at the Royal Victoria for two days only, Wednesday and Thursday, is a charming little miss just sixteen years old. She was born in Seattle, Wash., October 15, 1902. She developed a dramatic talent early and at twelve had the distinction of leading thousands of children in a folk dance at the San Diego exposition. She is also a great pianist. She made her debut as a public player when but four and when but nine years she was called to San Francisco to accompany on the piano the famous violinist Kubelik. As an extra girl in pictures she attracted the eye of Thomas H. Ince and he gave her the chance to play her first part in support of Charles Ray in "His Mother's Boy." Since that time she has played supporting roles in "The Hired Man," "Playing the Game," "The Law of the North" and "The Girl Dodger." She played with Dorothy Dalton in "Green Eyes."

CECIL B. DEMILLE
PRODUCTION HERE

New Photoplay "For Better,
 For Worse" at the Dominion

That a new Cecil B. DeMille production is one of the things the near future holds is always pleasing news to those who care for the best in photoplay art, for it is a recognized fact that the pictures made by this master director are actual theatrical events. Mr. DeMille's latest creation, "For Better, For Worse," will be shown at the Dominion Theatre this week.

For those who are familiar with the work of Mr. DeMille, no further statement is necessary than that a picture is directed by him personally for this knowledge is an assurance that the theme, the story, the acting and the production will all be more than excellent. Those who saw his last production, "Don't Change Your Husband," are still talking about it, and no one can forget his older pictures, such as "The Squaw Man," or "Old Wives for New," "We Can't Have Everything," "Till I Come Back to You" and "The Whispering Chorus." Edgar Selwyn, a well-known playwright, wrote the original story. He intended to produce it as a stage play next season in New York, but Mr. DeMille purchased the rights to it, for it was exactly the sort of thing he was looking for—timely, dramatic, vivid in characterization and genuinely human.

A cast of the usual DeMille excellence has been selected to portray the various roles. Leading is Elliott Dexter, Tom Forman, Wanda Hawley, Theodore Roberts, Raymond Hatton and Sylvia Ashton.

DOUGLAS FAIRBANKS
IN TYPICAL ROLE

Film Favorite Offers Exceptional Attraction at Variety This Week

In "One of the Blood" at the Variety this week, the first of the special series Manager Murdoch has secured, Douglas Fairbanks plays the part of a young man who simply can't keep out of trouble. He takes a hand in all sorts of situations which lead him all over the world. We find him first in New York, where he tries to show the fire department how it should be run. We find him helping the police raid the den of a king of the underworld. We find him later in Mexico showing the bandits what they don't know about their business and then we find him butting in on the affairs of a little principality in Europe.

An idea of the enormity of the production can be gathered from the fact that Mr. Fairbanks spent $40,000 for the erection of one "set" alone. This is an entire section of a little French town and was built complete to the last detail, from palace to hotel, from city hall to railroad station. Every building was erected as permanently as if it were designed as the living quarters of the inhabitants of the town. Ever the streets were paved and the realism of the buildings was so convincing that hundreds of swallows built their peculiar nests of mud in the copings and cornices.

Another city of an entirely different character was built in the hills surrounding the Douglas Fairbanks studios. Here the action demanded a Mexican village and a Mexican village "Doug" built.

Still another episode demanded a New York tenement street and "Doug" built it.

In addition to these and many more, a complete European railway line was built, 1,500 feet long and of the standard continental design, the carriages being the exact duplicate of the type in use in France. Supporting Mr. Fairbanks in this production are Marjory Daw, Frank Campau, Albert McQuarrie and Sam Sothorn, famous New York and London actor, and brother of E. H. Sothorn, who makes his first screen appearance in this picture.

IN GRIPPING ROLE

"The Unpainted Woman" Will Be Presented at Romano

"When you finish that, you can scrub the floor—and bake a pie—and then there is the silver to clean—"

Thus spoke the pompous Mrs. Hawes to her hired girl, Gudrun, daughter of Knute, descendant of Viking Kings. Mrs. Hawes is the type of woman who believes in piety, advice and the efficacy of work—for others.

"But Mrs. Hawes, you said I could go to the dance," interrupted the modern Cinderella.

"What's this world coming to? Young girls going to public dances without escorts—Huh!" And Mrs. Hawes started to strut majestically from the room, convinced that she had plausibly settled the argument once and for all.

"But I am not going alone; Charley Holt is taking me," came the startling reply, which rooted Mrs. Hawes to the floor and made her little eyes fairly bulge in amazement.

Her hired girl—going to a public dance with a Holt! The action of one of the oldest families in Mullinsdale—and one of the proudest!

Indeed, what must the world be coming to? Mrs. Hawes rushed to the telephone to inform the eldest Mrs. Holt (and incidentally all the neighbors on the party line) of the calamity that was about to overwhelm her through the terrible conduct of her son.

The stormy scene which ensued that evening between mother and son resulted in the latter angrily flinging himself from the room, whimpering that everyone is picking on him.

And so fate spun the web that captured youth in its blindness—and they were married!

But an idol turned to clay, a woman's wonderful fortitude, and how she worked out her salvation and that of her child, that is the tense, heart-gripping story of the "Unpainted Woman," written by Sinclair Lewis, the noted short story writer from which Mary MacLaren's latest vehicle has been adapted.

"The Unpainted Woman" is the Romano feature for to-day, Tuesday and Wednesday.

PANTAGES OFFERS*SPLENDID TALENTComedy and Skill Featured in Current Vaudeville
Bill

With an original book by Earl MacBoyle and original music by Walter Rosemont, the featured offering on the new bill of Pantages vaudeville, commencing with the matinee performance to-day, is described as the best musical tabloid George Choo has ever produced for vaudeville. It is entitled "Oh, Teddy," and features Tommy Toner and Hudson Freeborn. These two comedians of more than ordinary talent are supported by ten beautiful choristers, and the scenic arrangement is charming and fascinating, having been done by F. Dodd Ackerman, the great scenic artist of New York.

Frank Bush, the imitable, "of whom there is only one," has returned to the Pantages vaudeville circuit after three years spent in Europe, with so much that is fresh and entertaining that he is booked as the special added-attraction of the bill. Frank's dialect stories—and he is the king of dialect story tellers—encompass a host of the richest of the amusing incidents of his recent experience abroad, and will greatly amuse Victoria audiences as they have made for his big success in the other cities on the circuit already visited during his present tour.

G. Swayne Gordon and Company, in a comedy drama of one act, occupy another important position on the new programme. The playlet introduces a sparkling character, whose utterances go for sure-fire laughs with any audience. The plot has to do with one of those "tremendous mix-ups that seem to come about in a most unsuspecting sort of way and make rich comedy for the onlookers, which in this case are in the audience. The denouement of the offering is excruciatingly amusing.

Miss Georgia Howard, with her violin and wonderful wardrobe, will win a lot of friends in this city. She plays a carefully selected repertoire of classic and standard airs, and introduces her programme with a stage personality that wins and wins abundantly. She makes two changes of costume and her act is distinctive and otherwise known in the popular vernacular as "classy."

Cook and Vernon are a young man and girl team, with a very entertaining skit entitled "Sister Susie." Jean Vernon, in the character of Susie, calls up many a laugh.

Heras & Preston do a routine of knockout stuff, tumbling, comedy class and the like, and their stunts get good results in the way of making entertainment for their audiences. They do some wonderful acrobatic leaping.

The fourth episode of "The Carter Case," being shown by the Pantages, scope, will make up the remainder of the bill which the advance notices make into a most promising entertainment prospect.

DRAMATIC FEATURES*IN VITAGRAPH FILM

Columbia Presents "A Diplomatic Mission" Starring Earle Williams

Strong love interest and swift action make most appealing "A Diplomatic Mission," the Vitagraph Blue Ribbon Feature, which will be seen at the Columbia to-day, Tuesday and Wednesday. Earle Williams is the star and in the supporting cast are Grace Darmond, Leslie Stuart, Kathleen Kirkham and Gordon Russell. The picture was produced at the Hollywood studio under direction of Jack Conway, who obtained many beautiful and striking exteriors along the California coast.

Williams has the role of an American globe trotter, hurrying back to New York for the opera opening, when he meets Lady Diana Loring. He thrashes a young prince who insults her and flees to the island of Somona to save his neck. He lands on a neighboring island, under the British flag, but controlled by a German seeking to destroy the rich platinum mines needed by England in the war.

Williams foils the German, defends the natives and, incidentally, saves the life of Lady Diana, who has arrived on the island on the eve of the uprising. Williams is seen to splendid advantage in this picture of action, in which he matches wit and muscle against foes, singlehanded and in pitched battles.

There are many big scenes, especially the night attacks on the chateau and the hand-to-hand fighting with the natives, which cease only when a United States warship arrives and her first shot sends the black men back to the hills just as they had battered their way into the chateau. In the supporting cast are Grace Darmond, as Lady Diana; Leslie Stuart, Kathleen Kirkham and Gordon Russell.

Suppose You Improve Your Spare time this winter. Spott-Shaw Night School starts Oct. 7. Phone 28 for particulars.

TO REVIVE "THE NEW BOY" NEXT WEEKEarly Success to Be Repeated at the Princess Theatre

On Friday evening next at the Princess Theatre, Reginald N. Hincks will revive "The New Boy," a farcical comedy which was presented when his company first took over the Princess Theatre. At that time the company was in its infancy and it had not attained that high position in the public regard which it now unassailably holds. In consequence the audiences were somewhat small, and it is felt that there are many theatre-goers who would value an opportunity of seeing the play, while those who saw it on the previous occasion will find that repetition will only serve to enhance its attractiveness.

The caste for next Friday's production will include Mrs. F. Bellby, Miss Dorothy Stuart Robertson, Miss Margaret Butler, Alderman Andros, R. N. Hincks, Stewart G. Clark, A. M. D. Fairbairn and J. McCallum, who will fill the title role.

An exceptional good programme as been arranged for the recital by Miss Ida Gardner, contralto, assisted by Mr. Harold Lyman, flutist, which is to take place to-morrow evening at the Empress Hotel ballroom.

Among the numbers which will be sung by Miss Gardner are "Mighty Lak a Rose," by Nevin; "Bendemeer's Stream," by Moore; "Ma Curly-headed Baby," by Clutsam; "I Know Where I'm Goin'," an old Irish song. Mr. Lyman will be heard in several flute solos, and will also be heard with Miss Gardner in "The Barcarolle," from the "Tales of Hoffman." These artists will also be heard in conjunction with the new Edison, "The phonograph with a soul," proving to the audience conclusively that there is no difference between the voice of the living artist or the tone of any instrument and Mr. Edison's recreation. Apart from the unusual high class nature of the concert artists, the entertainment is immensely instructive, demonstrating as it does the wonderful advancement made by Mr. Edison in bringing his favorite invention to its present high state of perfection. It is through Mr. Herbert Kent's influence that these artists have been secured, and although tickets of admission, which may be had for the asking, are nearly all given out, there are still a few obtainable.

THE man in the frame was a MAN in the fullest sense of the word. The man behind her had failed in the test of courage. She thought that he was "yellow." But the man behind her was the man who finally escorted her to the altar, because he had shown her there are tests of courage harder to comply with than the test applied on the field of honor. You ask "How?" "Why?" and "Is it possible?" We say COME TO SEE. It's the greatest of all the DeMille productions.

Commences To-Morrow Morning

THIS will be a remarkable event and not the least extraordinary feature is the fact that we are able to hold it at all! Here is the why and wherefore. Last summer our buyer went to the eastern clothing centres and purchased generously—perhaps too generously—wherever real values were available. The clothing he purchased is now here—bought at figures that make it possible for us to turn over our stock at minimum prices. But that is not all, we have been able to place repeat orders for many of our lines, so out this stock must go to make way for new arrivals. Now that we have decided to hold this sale we will spend Monday marking down almost every item of this great stock.

VICTORIA NORTHWEST WORLD

REDS ARE NOT LOOKING FOR A SEVENTH ENCOUNTER

Cincy Fans Flood President's Office With Telegrams—Look for Wind-up To-morrow

Chicago, Oct. 6.—Victorious in three of the first four world series games, the Cincinnati Reds were out to-day to bag the fifth game of the series postponed yesterday when a downpour of rain, setting in late Saturday night, soaked Comiskey Field to such an extent that playing was impossible.

Pitching selections for the battle this afternoon were shrouded in uncertainty, but so far as indications from the Sox' camp could be discovered, Manager Gleason's selection was to be Claude "Lefty" Williams, who was beaten in the second game of the series at Cincinnati 4 to 3. Williams, it was rumored, has had enough rest since pitching at Cincinnati to go to the mound and do his best. But it is possible that Manager Gleason may make a last-minute switch and send "Big Bill" James into the fray.

Manager Moran's pitching choice seemed to lie between "Hod" Eller, who has been held in reserve, and Walter Reuther, who beat the Sox in the opener at Cincinnati. Reuther is the general choice of the experts. There was a strong possibility, however, that Manager Moran might decide to use Eller as the Reds have a three-game lead, and if defeat threatened, Reuther could be rushed into the game.

August Herrmann, president of the Cincinnati club, was flooded to-day with telegrams of encouragement from Cincinnati fans, who are convinced that the series will end to-morrow with their favorites in possession of the world's championship.

"One firm in Cincinnati telegraphed me for 3,000 tickets for its employees to go to the game to be played at home Tuesday," President Herrmann said. "They intend to close up shop, allowing the employees to attend the game as the guests of the firm. I hope that a seventh game won't be necessary, and it doesn't look like it at present."

The probable betting order for to-day's game follows:

Chicago—Liebold, rf; E. Collins, 2b; Weaver, 3b; Jackson, lf; Felsch, cf; Gandil, 1b; Rieberg, ss; Schalk, c; Williams, p.

Cincinnati—Rath, 2b; Daubert, 1b; Groh, 3b; Rousch, cf; Duncan, lf; Kopf, ss; Neale, rf; Rariden, c; Reuther or Eller, p.

It seems the consensus of fans' opinions that Gleason will use Williams, the southpaw, to-day. The opinions were widely divided as to Moran's possible choice, however. Cincinnati fans and scribes confidently expect Moran to use Eller, his right-hander, arguing that his selection would confirm the belief expressed early in the series that the Cincinnati manager would use all of his first-string twirlers in the order chosen by himself, and that each would be started in one of the first five games. However, there are others who profess to believe that Moran will use Reuther.

The Umpires.

The assignment of umpires in to-day's game is the same as in the opening game of October 1 at Cincinnati. Rigler will officiate behind the bat, Evans at first base, Quigley at second base and Nallin at third base.

WORLD SERIES FIGURES

Chicago, Oct. 6.—The attendance for the four games of the world's series baseball was 123,390; the total receipts, $385,290. Of the receipts, the players get $207,516.60, the clubs $135,344.36 and the National Commission $38,429.04.

Five games remained to be played if the full schedule is required, but Manager Moran and the Cincinnati fans believe that the full route will not have to be travelled.

INTER-PROVINCIAL FOOTBALL IS RESUMED

Ottawa, Oct. 5.—After a suspension of four years, the inter-provincial amateur football union resumed operations Saturday. At Lansdowne Park, Ottawa defeated Montreal, 10 to 3. Ottawa's scores were made by touchdowns. Kilt and Joe Tubman being responsible. Montreal got their total by single points.

There was plenty of good punting and tackling and some sensational runs. Ottawa had more weight and used it effectively. Martin Kilt, who was suspended for rough play for six years, was with Ottawa. By telegraphic vote Ottawa was notified that he had been reinstated. As this had not been officially announced, Montreal played against him under protest.

To Travelling Salesmen

WHEN showing goods, the traveller's cuffs as well as his goods are brought right before the prospective customer's eyes. A soiled cuff doesn't create a favorable impression. And it draws the attention away from the article to the soiled cuff.

The alert, particular traveller, therefore, has to take a big bunch of shirts on his trips and change often—unless he carries W. G. & R. Shirts with Double Wear Cuffs with him when he needs just half the usual quantity.

Everyone knows that the cuffs—the most exposed portion of a shirt—get soiled first. And it doesn't take long for a dirty train or dusty road to soil them.

But when one side of his Double Wear Cuffs gets soiled the traveller just turns the cuffs, which fold easily and lie perfectly flat either way they're turned. He thus wears his shirt twice as long.

If he is away for a period of two weeks to a month or longer every inch in his grip or personal trunk is valuable. W. G. & R. Shirts with Double Wear Cuffs save space for him, cut laundry bills for shirts in half, and wear longer.

West, Vets, Yarrows, Foundation, Wards Get Soccer League Points

Five Games in Second Lap of Competition Played Saturday—Yarrows Going Strong

Victoria Wests, 3; Comrades, 1. G.W.V.A., 3; Fragments, 1. Yarrows, 2; Army and Navy Veterans, 0. Foundation, 4; Harbor Marine, 1. North Wards, 2; K. of C. Hut, 0.

Five games in the second lap of the soccer league race were played Saturday, the Foundation team proving the greatest goal-getters of the day by securing four tallies at the expense of the Harbor Marine and winning by a three-goal victory. Yarrows continued their winning streak and notched another couple of points at the expense of the Army and Navy Veterans.

The ground was in good condition at Royal Athletic Park for the G. W. V. A. v. Fragment's game, and a moderate crowd saw the G. W. V. A. men take the game three to one. Fragments lost the toss and Bloom kicked off facing the sun. Straight from the kick off the Veterans made an attack, and Kerr missed with a fine shot. From the goal kick the Vets got busy, and Bartholomew started a combination that travelled from Dowell to Rough, who sent in grand style and Bartholomew meeting the ball gave Bruce no chance whatever with one of his characteristic shots. From the kick off the game was grand to see, the Vets forwards ably backed by their halves gave a grand display. From the break away the Fragments brought the ball down the field and Allan, the Vets back handled it in the penalty area. From the penalty kick Bloom scored with a shot far out of the reach of Penderay, making the score equal. Then the tug-of-war commenced. Straight away from the kick off the Vets swarmed all over the Fragments. The Vets—Halves, Robbins, Forrest and Ackroyd playing great football and feeding their forwards finely. Shot after shot rained on the Fragments goal, but Bruce saved well. The Fragments retaliated from a free kick, and nearly scored. Half time arrived with the score one each.

Comrades vs. Victoria West.
The game started at 2.15 with very little wind. The Comrades won the toss and chose the sun at their backs. The game was most evenly fought for the most of the first half. Some dissatisfaction on the referee's decision on offside and fouls was expressed.

Two Up For Wests.
A beautiful shot scored the first goal for the Wests, and Green, of the Comrades, stumbling, scored against his own team. The half ended 2-0 in favor of the Wests.

The game was protested at half time by Capt. Joe Harper, who in more forcible than polite language, told the referee, Mr. Fordyce, what he thought, and agreed to play the second half under protest.

Shortly after the resumption of play Green redeemed himself by putting through a beautiful shot.

The game then proceeded for a fast twenty minutes of play, when the Wests scored again and continued to a furious conclusion. The final score was 3-1 in favor of the Wests.

Foundation vs. Harbor Marine.
The Foundation men secured two more points in the league race by beating the Harbor Marine team four to one. The Marines got the first goal five minutes after play started. Swan headed the ball back through the goal after Bridges had already saved one from McKinnon.

There were but flashes of combination work throughout the game, but the individual style of the players showed that with more practice to gether both teams will be formidable. The Foundation equals came just before the close of the half. Southern getting past Monk and meeting the ball with a fine shot.

With the change over the Foundations showed more team work than previously, and in spite of the retirement of Davis, the ten men remaining were able to keep the control. When the game got away and the Marines became dangerous Brown and Bridges were invariably on the job and sped the ball away.

The three tallies which the Foundations scored in the second half were netted by Southern (2) and Kerley. The best man on the field for consistent work was McKinnon, of the Marines, and it was all that Bridges could do to keep some of his beautifully placed shots from slipping under the bar.

K. of C. vs. North Wards.
The K. of C. boys made a second failure to get points, the North Wards handing them a defeat by two goals to nil. With the Wards playing with the slope in their favor, Cummins and Pettigrew secured tallies in the first half and a hotly contested second half found both sides unable to land one among the hemps.

RUGBY AT SASKATOON.

Saskatoon, Oct. 5.—The Saskatoon Rugby team defeated the fourteen representing the University of Saskatchewan at Cairns Field Saturday afternoon by a score of 28 to 0. The score is hardly an indication of the play, for the Varsity team lacked experience and suffered from stage fright. Mistakes behind their line, which were quickly taken advantage by the city team, were responsible for their downfall.

THREE TEAMS IN HOCKEY RACE THIS YEAR, SAYS HEAD

Smothers Report Fourth Settlement Will Oppose Seattle, Victoria and Vancouver

(By A. P. Garvie.)

Vancouver, October 6.—With the approach of winter, sport lovers throughout the west are now turning their attention to the approaching hockey season which, it is predicted will prove the most successful in the history of the game in these parts. Although the annual meeting of the Pacific Coast Hockey Association, the reigning body in the west will not be held until November 1, the coast moguls are already stirring, and announcements in connection with the signing of players and plans for the ensuing season may be expected within the next few weeks.

Definite announcement was made this week by President Frank Patrick of the coast circuit, that the Big Three of the hockey world, Victoria, Vancouver and Seattle, will again make up the coast circuit. There have been rumors flying back and forth that a fourth club would be admitted, but the coast proxy put a quietus on the yarn a few days ago when he definitely announced that the circuit would remain the same as last year. Con Jones, the Vancouver sportsman, has not altogether abandoned his hockey plans and he will probably have his formal application for a berth on file when the magistrates convene in November. Mr. Jones would like to have a second team, Vancouver and proposes to gather his playing talent in the east. Moreover, as practically every professional player in Canada is tied up with one team or another and there is an agreement between the P.C.H.A. and N.H.A. which protects them from player raids, it is difficult to see where the Vancouver man would be able to sign puckchasers although he could probably do so by purchasing their release from the clubs with which they are already signed. Reports have come out from the east that Neway Lalonde has been asked to give up his position for Mr. Jones but Lalonde himself is the property of Les Canadiens of Montreal and would find it difficult to secure his release unless George Kennedy suffers a change of heart and that is not likely as the Montreal impresario regards Lalonde as his big ace in professional hockey.

So while there may be talk of a fourth club in the P.C.H.A. and many more rumors concerning the make-up of this organization it can be said with some certainty that when the going sounds Victoria, Vancouver and Seattle will be the only clubs waiting for the barrier to go up on the 1919-20 championship center.

President Patrick has also put the quietus on the story from the east to the effect that Les Canadiens and Seattle are to finish out their world's series before the start of the coast series. There will be no pre-season series and the coasters will go through with their regular schedule before doing anything in the way of arranging for a world's series. Just what form the world's series of next year will take has not yet been determined, but fans may rest assured that they will be treated to the best possible. President Patrick is already busy on plans for the post-season classic.

The majority of the players who have figured in coast hockey in former seasons will be found in their usual places this season. And what is more the teams are going to be stronger, according to the rival leaders. Frank Patrick will again manage the Vancouver club, Pete Muldon will take another whirl at the managerial end of the Seattle champions, while Lester Patrick will pilot and play with the Victoria Aristocrats. So far no players have been signed but they are all held on the reserve lists and their signing will be a mere formality. On the Vancouver roster appear the names of Lehman, Cook, Taylor, Mackay, Duncan, Stanley, Irvin, Harris, Victoria will have the Loughlin brothers, Farries, Oatman, Johnson, Murray, Genge, Dundardale and others of last year's club. Dick Irvin is almost certain to return to the coast this season and he will line up with the Aristocrats. And don't overlook Seattle in placing a bet this season. The Mets will be stronger than ever with Jim Miloy back in the line up Muldon figures in the Holmes, Rowe, Hickey, Foyton, Murray, Wilson and he may also have Heck Fowler, goal keeper extraordinary, back on the job in which event Harry Holmes will be in a new berth. All in all the prospects for a great season in the ice sport are all.

HEAVYWEIGHT SOLDIER PROVIDES BIG SURPRISE

Toronto, Oct. 6.—Soldier Jones, the Toronto heavyweight, effected the surprise of the boxing season in Buffalo by knocking out Stanley Meyers in the first round of the scheduled ten-round main bout at the Parkdale Club. Meyers is a much fancied heavyweight, and while overseas won the heavyweight championship of the United States marines. He weighed 180 pounds, while Jones made 174½.

Next Saturday night Jones meets Arthur Pelkey in Serbrooke, Que., for the heavyweight championship of Canada.

A JOB WELL DONE.

An old sailor approached a farmer for a meal one day, saying he was willing to work.

"I will give you a meal," said the farmer, "if you will round up those sheep on the common there and drive them into this field."

In three hours time the sailor came back looking hot, but happy.

Glancing over the gate in the field, the farmer saw the sheep safely in the fold. "There's a hare hitting up among 'em," he exclaimed.

"Do you mean that little fellow there?" asked the sailor. "Why, that's the little beggar who gave me all the trouble. I thought it was a hare."

U. S. JAZZ BAND TO BE HEADLINER

Orpheum Week-end Offering
Will Be Attractive at Royal Victoria

At least twenty-five young men who enlisted in Uncle Sam's navy with all good intentions of becoming first-class seamen, mechanics, or what not, turned out to be musicians without wanting to. The U. S. Jazz Band will be the headline attraction on the Orpheum bill at the Royal Victoria on Friday and Saturday with a Saturday matinee. The band was organized and is conducted by Ensign Alf. G. Moore and has under his leadership developed into one of the finest bands to be found anywhere, and it is therefore taken for granted that Ensign Moore was a professional before his enlistment, but this is not so. Ensign Moore and his boys will remain throughout their present vaudeville tour and when that is concluded the twenty-five men will return to their various walks in civil life.

Al Laydell and Larleton Macy present a little comedy with musical trimmings called "Old Cronies" both exceptionally clever character comedians. Each has delineated a characterization with conspicuous success in various skits and plays but until now they have never appeared together.

In vaudeville futures, Leona Stephens and Len D. Hollister have been pegged as "bill toppers" and rightly too. Both players have gained success on the so-called legitimate stage, and they will present a little musical playlet entitled "Out in California."

Jimmy Savo and company in a salvo of screams will furnish a big share of the comedy that will be found on this bill. Savo is a droll, eccentric comedian with dancing as his forte. Living up to a reputation is an exceedingly difficult matter. Eddie Weber and Marion Ridnor are called "Youthful Prodigies" but despite this handicap they have little difficulty because this boy and girl are of the timber from which genuine artists are made and youth of course is always triumphant. They sing and dance.

In her character studies and poses, Miss Robbie Gordon is a real treat. She is not only an artist, but a beautiful woman as well. Miss Gordon is giving twelve art poses, in many cases changing from one to the other in a few seconds.

Howard Nichols billed as "The Ace of Hoops" gives a display of dexterity unequalled in this particular line. Mr. Nichols is acknowledged the champion of the world and undoubtedly is the most marvelous of all hoop rollers and jugglers. His control over hoops is almost uncanny.

As usual Orpheum patrons may expect to round out an evening's pleasure in the Canadian films which will be thrown upon the screen. The Orpheum orchestra may also be depended upon for high class musical programme.

CANADIAN NATIONAL OFFER IS TOO SMALL

V. & S. From Intersection to Sidney May Be Sold
Elsewhere

Premier Oliver is informed that a representative of the Canadian National Railways has made an offer to the Receiver of the Victoria and Sidney Railway Company for the purchase of that part of the non-operating company's line which stretches from the intersection with the national road into the town of Sidney itself.

It is stated by the Receiver, however, that the figure mentioned is no more than twenty-five per cent. of the estimated value of the property, as a consequence of which he considers that it is his duty to dispose of the steel rails and equipment involved in this particular stretch to the party purchasing the remainder of the road.

In view of this information and the threatened inconvenience and loss to the industries and people of the communities affected, Premier Oliver has wired to D. B. Hanna, President of the Canadian National Railways, pointing out to him the unfortunate circumstances that would develop in the event of a cessation of all rail service between the city of Victoria and Sidney.

Why Every Canadian Will Buy Victory Bonds

TRIUMPHANT, Canada emerged from the war, a nation great in arms and great in trade, a nation respected and admired by the world.

And Canada will continue to hold high her head.

Our obligations to the heroic dead, to the crippled and disabled soldiers, and to the men who were so fortunate as to return, will all be met.

That is Canada's duty.

To fulfill it, every Canadian will do his part.

Canadians will keep the machinery of prosperity humming, the factory chimneys smoking, the sea and lake ports bustling with activity, and the surplus products of farm and factory going forth to Great Britain and other lands.

But to accomplish all this more National Working Capital is needed.

The money is here, but it is in the hands of individuals rather than in the hands of the nation. It is in the savings banks, loan companies and generally scattered throughout Canada. For instance, our deposits in banks and post offices have increased in five years from one billion ($1,086,013,704) to a billion and three-quarters ($1,740,462,509), an increase of nearly two-thirds of a billion ($654,448,805).

The people will loan their individual savings to the nation to be used as National Working Capital in maintaining our commercial prosperity.

Every man and woman from every walk of life is interested in maintaining this prosperity. Therefore, every man and woman from every walk of life is personally interested in making the Victory Loan 1919 an overwhelming success.

It will serve to keep Canada in its present place, far up in the vanguard of World Progress.

She cried "Liar" when everyone else believed

Kent, of the Royal Northwest Mounted Police, had confessed a murder. Everyone believed him. Then exquisite Marette appeared. Speaking with him for the first time, she called him a splendid liar. She doubted what everyone else believed. Strange complications follow one another quickly in "The Valley of Silent Men." It is a corking yarn—even better than "The River's End."

No parent DARE overlook this

The children of one family out of every four are suffering from malnutrition. Poverty has nothing to do with it. Your child may be among them; you may be contributing to one of the worst menaces facing this country. The causes are slight, the consequences almost beyond repair. You owe it to yourself, to your children, to your country, to read "Is Your Child Hungry?" by Louise Stevens Bryant. In this article she explains the apparently trivial causes of underfeeding and the simple provisions by which it may be eliminated.

Are second marriages happy?

Does a widow make a desirable wife? Does a man provide more plentifully for his second wife. Why is a man's temperament so different when it comes to a second spouse? Why does a woman, who treated her first husband to a continuous lecture, act so meekly to her second choice? These and many other questions are answered and discussed with a delightful undercurrent of humor by Dorothy Dix

Could any girl be quite as innocent as Marigold?

When Alice Moran first saw her, Marigold was seated carelessly on the edge of a brook, her slender brown legs thrust into the tumbling cold water. Another time, when everybody was looking for her, Marigold was found on the roof—reading. Not even the tragedy, which seemed suddenly to enter her life, could undermine her attitude of innocence, of simplicity, of naivete. This extraordinary story, "God's in His Heaven," by Kathleen Norris, appears complete in the October issue of Good Housekeeping.

Can women succeed in business?

For centuries women have been considered useless where executive duties are concerned. But they are beginning to show the world its error. One woman, for instance, who had never done any work before, is to-day one of the highest salaried traveling women in the world. Another decided to go into advertising. She is so important to-day that even her name has been patented. How they did it is told in an inspiring article, "On the Road."

Another article in the same issue deals with the Federation of Professional and Business Women. Two hundred women met, stopped talking and listened for five hot days. They represent a voting body of several million women. This stimulating account tells what they have already accomplished and what they intend to do for you.

A dress that saves money

Fighting the high cost of living when it comes to women's clothing is like everything else. It's easy—when you know how. A complete article on the "Secrets of Remodeling Effectively and Economically" tells how to do it. It shows, among other things, a garment which, having one foundation, may be worn on different occasions with simple accessories. The other articles in this profusely illustrated department give the opinions of Worth, Paquin, Doeuillet, Georgette, Jenny, Doucet and others on the winter silhouette, the pannier, evening wraps, millinery, the new designs in fabrics. Even the youngsters are not neglected. A detailed article on the economical wardrobe for children answers all the perplexing questions.

PERFORM OPERATION ON MAKURA AT SEA

Lady Passenger Successfully Operated On; Liner Delayed by Heavy Fogs

Shortly after the Canadian-Australian liner Makura, Capt. Crawford, which docked here this morning from the Antipodes, left Honolulu on the last leg of her voyage one of the second-class passengers, Mrs. W. Pittam developed severe abdominal pains. Dr. Florence Keller, who was making the passage from Auckland, was called into consultation with Dr. Shaw, the ship's surgeon. It was decided to operate immediately.

An operating table was set up in a special room. Dr. P. M. Keller, husband of Dr. Florence Keller, administered the anesthesia while the wife performed the operation. Dr. Shaw was in attendance. The operation proved quite successful, and when the Makura arrived here the patient was well on the road to recovery, and declined to be taken off the ship. She will be removed to hospital on arriving in Vancouver.

Delayed by Fog.

Capt. Crawford reports excellent weather from the time he cleared the heads at Sydney until reaching the vicinity of Cape Flattery when a very dense fog shut down. The Makura had to slow down considerably and did not reach William Head until 8 o'clock last evening. By special order the red-stacker is permitted to obtain her pratique after sundown provided she carries no passengers designated as "yellow." At Honolulu the Makura picked up forty-five Portuguese and Japanese, and as a result was forced to swing at anchor off the Head until daylight this morning.

New Zealand Ace Aboard.

Among the passengers who arrived on the steamship was Major K. Caldwell, the New Zealand ace. During his fighting on the Western Front Major Caldwell shot down 27 Hun machines. He had many very thrilling battles in the air and on one occasion one of the wings of his machine crumpled when two miles in the air. By climbing out of the cockpit and supporting himself on the remainder of the wing he made a successful landing within the British lines.

The Makura brought one of the smallest passenger lists of the season. She cleared from Sydney one week after the Niagara, which brought a capacity list.

The Makura has had the misfortune to be the butt of many strikes. On her last visit here she was de-lained at Vancouver for one month, when the longshoremen were out. On reaching Sydney another strike was in progress, and for six weeks the vessel was tied up.

NO FURTHER ORDERS FOR VANCOUVER YET

Terminal City Members Trying to Get Four Contracts For Four Steel Ships

Vancouver, B. C., Oct. 6.—The Province prints the following from its Ottawa correspondent:

"It was officially stated on Saturday by Alex. Johnston, Deputy Minister of Marine, that no further contracts for Vancouver shipyards have yet been let. The whole matter is under advisement.

"The Vancouver members have been strongly urging upon General Mewburn, who is acting Minister of Marine and Fisheries, and Sir Henry Drayton, that additional contracts should be given to Vancouver for this winter, in order to meet the unemployment situation. They have been much impressed by the argument and despite the previous decision not to let further contracts for Government-owned ships, it is likely four more vessels will be ordered from Vancouver. The Vancouver members state they expect two to go to the Wallace shipyards and two to Coughlan."

CANADA MARU ARRIVED FROM ORIENTAL PORTS

TO INVESTIGATE SHIPBUILDING PLAN

Board of Trade Appoints Committee to Start to Work To-day

To examine and try to discover a way of putting the proposed $2,000,000 community shipbuilding plan in operation to continue the industry here, the Board of Trade Saturday appointed a committee of business, financial and shipping men.

The members of this committee are: C. H. French, of the Hudson's Bay Company; W. H. Hargreaves, manager of the Canadian Bank of Commerce; Capt. J. W. Troup, manager of the C. P. R. Pacific Coast Steamship Service; F. B. Pemberton and H. Goulding Wilson.

The committee started work this afternoon. They are beginning with no set plan, but intend to investigate everything in connection with the proposals. It is expected that they will conclude their work by the end of the week to report to the quarterly meeting of the Board of Trade next Friday afternoon.

TO PROTECT PUBLIC.

Albany, Oct. 6.—A committee of prominent bankers and lawyers has been appointed by Governor Smith, of New York, to investigate the subject of safeguarding the investing public in securities offered for sale.

MANIAC AT HELM OF SHIP IN BAD WATERS

After Piloting Barque Guy C. Goss Insane Man Jumped Overboard and Lost

Seattle, Wash., Oct. 6.—Guided by the hand of a madman who stood alone at the wheel while more than a hundred sailors and fishermen slept peacefully in their bunks, the barque Guy C. Goss, of the Northwestern Fisheries Company, moved drunkenly up the Strait of Juan de Fuca during the darkness of the early morning hours on Saturday, her towering masts shrouded in low hanging fog. The helmsman, who had gone insane during the voyage from Chignik, Alaska, after steering the big sailing vessel for nearly an hour, dressed himself in his best clothing, as if preparing to go to a wedding, and disappeared over the side before his condition became known to officers of the ship.

Creeping through the mists and blackness of the night the big sailing craft, at the mercy of a deranged mind, passed through waters dangerous to shipping and a tortuous channel skirted by jagged rocks which threatened the ship with destruction as her crew and the large number of fishermen from the Chignik cannery were unmindful of their peril.

Disappeared Overboard.

Discovery of the stellar part the helmsman had played in a new mystery of the sea was made by I. Hanson, mate of the vessel who awakened to the fact that the vessel was zig-zagging a crazy course up the strait. He hastened to the wheelhouse and found it deserted. A huge life buoy which hung on the wall was gone. Just outside the door and securely fastened to the ship's railing was a small line dangling in the water. The helmsman had disappeared leaving nothing but mystery as to the fate in the chilling waters with the shore more than two miles away.

"We were bound up the Strait of Juan de Fuca," said Capt. D. Didrick, master of the Guy C. Goss, in describing the mysterious disappearance of the helmsman. "At 3 a. m. a seaman by the name of Matt Kramson was placed at the wheel. Kramson had been acting queerly for several days but we believed that he was only discouraged about his financial affairs and paid no attention to his morose manner."

"All went well until we were abreast Foulweather Bluff at 2.50 a. m., when the ship began to swing from port to starboard and from starboard to port, following a zigzag course. The first mate's watch was from 12 o'clock to 4 a. m., and as it was nearly one he had gone below to call E. Swendsen, the second mate. When he returned to the deck the ship was plunging and pitching from side to side, going first to starboard and then to port, running wild, as one of my men described her uncertain drunken course. Then came the discovery that Kramson was missing and there had been no one at the wheel."

WALLACE YARD TO LAUNCH CANADIAN AVIATOR OCT. 9

Vancouver, B. C., Oct. 6.—The Canadian Aviator, a 5100-ton steel ship, now under construction at the Wallace shipyards, will be launched at 5 o'clock on the afternoon of October 9. This will be the third steel ship the company has launched on the Federal Government order. The other two, Canadian Volunteer and Canadian Trooper, are now at sea.

DEMOUNTABLE SHIPS WILL BE BUILT IN SEATTLE

Seattle, Wash., Oct. 6.—Construction of huge demountable lumber ships will be begun in Seattle within a few weeks, each vessel's hull and cargo consisting of 5,000,000 to 6,000,000 feet of lumber, worth approximately $250,000 here and $500,000 in England. The ships will be built either on a salt water site or a fresh water site in Seattle under the supervision of J. H. Price, well known as the president of the J. H. Price Shipbuilding Company, of Seattle.

STEAMER SENDS OUT CALL FOR ASSISTANCE

Boston, Oct. 5.—A call for immediate assistance was received from the steamer Lake Gravet at the naval radio station here last night. The message said that the steamer, which is bound from Hovey, England, for Portugal, was in urgent need of coal and because of heavy weather, was unable to reach a coaling station. Her position at 6.20 p. m. was latitude 44.05 north, longitude 48.27.

FURTHER PROGRESS ON LIVING COSTS BATTLE

Although the representatives of the various Provincial Governments were asked to be in attendance at the recent Industrial Conference at Ottawa, no provision was made for them to take an active part in the proceedings. As a consequence the Hon. J. W. de B. Farris, Attorney-General and Minister of Labor, who returned from the national capital this morning in company with J. D. McNiven, Deputy Minister of Labor, merely held a watching brief for British Columbia. Mr. Farris stated to The Times representative, however, that the provincial representatives held a conference with the Dominion authorities relative to establishing a method of more intimate co-operation with them in respect of the various important matters discussed by the conference as a whole.

National and Provincial.

It was generally agreed at this gathering that such questions as a minimum wage and mothers' pensions were properly matters for provincial legislation. On the other hand, said Mr. Farris, it was also generally conceded that such matters as old age pensions, unemployment and sickness insurance were exclusively subjects for national treatment by way of Federal legislation.

In connection with the eight-hour day proposal, Mr. Farris stated that a division of opinion arose as to where Provincial jurisdiction ended and Federal jurisdiction commenced. It was contended, however, that it was a matter for Dominion action provided that the Federal Parliament possessed the necessary jurisdiction, and in this connection it was agreed that the Federal Government should submit the question to the Supreme Court of Canada in order to find out whether the Dominion Parliament had the power under the Constitution Act to pass such an Act.

Referring to the Conference and its possible effect upon the future relations between capital and labor, Mr. Farris is of the opinion that good was accomplished because it enabled both sides to pool their views and discuss highly controversial matters without the introduction of inflammatory and irrelevant material. He looks for considerable benefit as a consequence and inclines to the view that many differences of opinion, which invariably lead to misunderstandings of a more or less serious nature, could be disposed of in an amicable fashion if the tolerant spirit which characterized the conference could be allowed to prevail in the future.

H. C. of L.

In the matter of the war on the high cost of living, Mr. Farris held a conference with Chief Commissioner Robson, both in Winnipeg and again in Ottawa, and found that his policy has been designed very much along the lines suggested at the Vancouver meeting of British Columbia's chief magistrates. The appointment of Lieut.-Col. Hulme soon afterwards was evidence of the co-operation intended in order that this Province would have an active agency at work in this connection.

The Attorney-General said that an understanding between Commissioner Robson and himself as to the work to be carried on in British Columbia was arrived at, with the result that Major J. B. Pattullo, K. C., was appointed to represent the Board of Commerce and Capt. D. A. MacDonald, K. C., by the Province. Both these officers are returned soldiers and the former is a brother of the Hon. T. D. Pattullo, Minister of Lands for British Columbia.

ROCK BAY BRIDGE CASE ADJOURNED UNTIL DECEMBER

In Order That City May Produce Absent Witnesses; December 2 Date Set

In order that the city may have an opportunity of producing certain witnesses at present in the East, Chief Justice McDonald, sitting in the Assize Court this morning adjourned until December 2 the case in which the city's right to remove the old Rock Bay bridge is questioned.

When this morning's sitting commenced, Harold Robertson, on behalf of the city presented an affidavit sworn by City Solicitor Pringle in which it was asserted that the city required further time to prepare its defence and that the presence of former City Engineer C. H. Rust, and former Assistant Engineer Payne was required at the trial. Mr. Rust, it was pointed out, resided in Toronto, while Mr. Payne was in England. Necessarily it would take time to bring them to Victoria. Without the presence of these witnesses, Mr. Robertson thought, it would be impossible to proceed as the evidence of the engineers with regard to the bridge was necessary.

"The city is not charged with keeping a dangerous bridge, but with failing to install a new one," the judge reminded counsel for the defence.

"This matter has been standing for four years now," pursued Mr. Robertson, "and at the last minute the plaintiffs come and try to force us to trial in four days. This would be a grave act of injustice."

"Had the city received any information before the assize that the case was to proceed?" queried His Lordship.

In reply City Solicitor Pringle asserted that he had not known anything about the case until forty-eight hours, or three days ago.

Opposed Adjournment. F. A. McDiarmid, acting for the plaintiffs, strenuously opposed the efforts of the defence to have the case adjourned, declaring that the evidence of Mr. Rust and Mr. Payne was not necessary. "If these gentlemen were to declare that the bridge was entirely dangerous and that the next motor that passed over it would fall through that would be no defence," he asserted. "There's nothing that these witnesses could say about the bridge that we could not admit was perfectly true. I am prepared to admit that the bridge was dangerous if my learned friend asserts that it was."

After explaining further details in his case, Mr. McDiarmid urged immediate action on the case in order that a by-law authorizing the building of a new bridge might be placed before the ratepayers at the January election. It was advisable and desirable that the matter should be concluded during the regime of the present City Council which was familiar with the case. "In short," said Mr. McDiarmid, "we want some sign that the bridge is going forward. I am therefore strenuously opposing an adjournment."

"We should have time to make a full defence," replied Mr. Robertson. "Regarding the placing of a by-law before the ratepayers, the city could do this at any time."

"I cannot see that Mr. Rust's evidence has anything to do with the case," observed His Lordship, remarking further that it was far better to bear down a dangerous bridge than to risk an action for damages should anyone be injured on account of its dilapidated condition. "This procedure has been rather hasty," he continued, "and the city should have some opportunity to present its defence." At the same time His Lordship declared that delay on the part of the city in attending to the bridge had been somewhat lengthy. If the case were stood over until the next sitting of the court in May, the matter would be delayed still further, and the public might have cause to complain. While he could appreciate the case of the city he had to consider the interest of the public and the people interested in the bridge. He therefore adjourned the case until December 2.

RETIRING SECRETARY HONORED AT Y.W.C.A.

Miss Jane Budd Presented by Board With Gift and Address

After four years of service with the Victoria branch of the Y. W. C. A., Miss Jane Budd on Saturday severed her connection with the local branch and will shortly leave for Vancouver where she will take a well-earned rest. Miss Budd was for over three years Employment Secretary of the "Y" and for the last nine months has acted in the capacity of General Secretary. In carrying out her duties she has shown a kindly sympathy and tact which has endeared her to the many girls who look upon the "Y" as their home.

Farewell Tea.

In token of their regret at her departure, the Board of Directors entertained Miss Budd at a farewell tea in the club room at the Y. W. C. A. on Saturday afternoon. The following members of the Board were present, the remainder of the directorate being absent from town: Mrs. J. L. Beckwith, president; Miss A. T. Fawcett, Mrs. T. B. Brown, Mrs. (Dr.) Plaskett, Mrs. Percy, Mrs. Colman, Miss L. R. Dowie, Mrs. Fred Niven, Miss Bromley-Judd, Mrs. C. H. French, Mrs. Howell, Mrs. J. Kingham and Mrs. Rowlands. Mrs. C. H. French presided at the table, which was artistically decorated with golden-brown chrysanthemums and carnations.

Presentation and Address.

A pleasing little feature was the presentation to Miss Budd of a handsome fitted leather shopping bag. Mrs. Beckwith making the presentation on behalf of the Board. Accompanying the bag was an address, couched in the following terms of appreciation:

"Dear Miss Budd,—In parting with you as General Secretary of the Y. W. C. A. we wish to express our deep appreciation of the faithful service you have rendered. The Board has always found in you an efficient officer and an untiring worker, and to the girls and young women with whom you have come in contact, you have always proved a true Christian guide and friend. We trust your health will soon be restored and that we shall often have the benefit of your advice and assistance in this work which we know lies so near your heart. We beg your acceptance of this little gift as a slight expression of our esteem and affection, hoping it will carry only happy memories of our work together in the Y. W. C. A. (Signed) Annie J. Fawcett, Rec. Sec.; Agnes W. Beckwith, Pres.; Margaret S. Brown, Reba, H.

"CEETEE"

THE PURE WOOL
UNDERCLOTHING
THAT WILL NOT SHRINK

'CEETEE' underwear is made especially for those who appreciate quality and comfort.

While the first cost is higher than ordinary underwear, the better wear, greater warmth, lighter weight and all-round satisfaction make it much more economical in the long run.

You cannot buy poor 'CEETEE'—it is not made.

The process of manufacture is different and expensive—there is nothing else like it made in Canada—special machinery—specially trained operators—each garment with individuality.

Only the very finest, safest and cleanest Australian Merino wool is used—so soft that a baby can wear it.

There are no seams—as the garments are made with a selvedge and the joins are knitted together—not sewn as in ordinary garments.

Each 'CEETEE' garment is knit, not cut, to fit the body.

Each 'CEETEE' garment goes through our special secret process, making it absolutely unshrinkable.

As a matter of fact, 'CEETEE' is better than imported, it is in a class by itself—without competition and is superlative.

Made in all sizes for Men, Women and Children
—in Union Suits or Separate Garments.

On Active Service

BONN, GERMANY, Jan. 2nd, 1919

Messrs. The C. Turnbull Co., Ltd., Galt, Ontario

Gentlemen—Three years ago, before leaving G. for overseas, I bought three sets of combinations, which I have worn almost continuously since and which have given splendid satisfaction. They are now faded and I should like to renew them. They are marked, Turnbull's Guaranteed Ceete Unshrinkable, Full-fashioned and are "Vocora" in color. I will wait four suits this time. Please make the shipment as soon as possible.

Yours truly (Signed) Lieut. Colonel

Commanding... Bn. Can. Engineers

*These brown garments are Turnbull's cashmere No. 432. The original of above letter may be seen on file at our offices.

WHEN finer wool can be secured; when better spinning and knitting processes are devised, it may be possible to excel the quality in these wonderful children's stockings.

But it is not possible to-day.

"Little Darling" for infants, and "Little Daisy" for children up to 12 years, are the best that can be made—a bold claim, but one that thousands of women will grant. Your own judgment will affirm it.

Only fine Australian lamb's wool is ever used to make these soft stockings. If mothers have ever found it hard to procure "Little Darling" or "Little Daisy" hosiery, there was a good reason. Whenever there was a shortage of the proper wool, we had to make fewer of these wonderful stockings. No substitute has ever replaced that wonderful wool.

LITTLE DARLING HOSIERY—for babies and tiny tots up to seven—has silken toe and heel.

LITTLE DAISY HOSIERY—for children up to twelve—has extra strength in heel and toe.

Many dainty shades and black.

OAK BAY TO HAVE A NEW WILLOWS SCHOOL

Municipal Voters Pass School By-law by a Large Majority

By passing the new school by-law on Saturday Oak Bay voters made it plain that they were willing to foot the bill for an expensive school building at the Willows. The by-law carried by 237 ballots in its favor and 53 against it.

There was little doubt in the minds of the Oak Bay Councillors that the school by-law would pass with little opposition, for the people of Oak Bay generally realized that congestion at the present Willows School made a new structure an absolute necessity. While Oak Bay will provide $65,000 for the new building the Provincial Government, it is understood, will contribute $15,000 this year and probably a like sum later. The new school, it is hoped will be finished in time for the fall term of 1920.

SOCIALISM TO-DAY

Subject of Sermon at Congregational Church Yesterday.

That Socialism is a world force to-day, stronger than in 1914, challenging the world with greater force than did Kaiserism—was the contention of Mr. Spence before a large congregation last night.

Socialism is the dominant issue of the day and professing Christians must be ready to meet it, he said. In justice to ourselves we must seek to discover all that is good in it and not judge it by those whose lives and teachings are the poorest expressions of it. The Christian Church has a right to the same frankness—not to be measured by her failures or by the derelicts in her membership, but by her successes and her highest life.

Socialism cannot be suppressed by force, of arms for it appeals to the hearts and conscience of millions as did Christianity in its struggles with pagan Rome.

What Socialism demands, and what the church must demand is a changed social order—a social order in which the weak will be protected against the vicious; in which there will be no slums, no child labor, or anything else which would rob any man, woman or child of the opportunity to grow in those things that make for decency, health, and general happiness.

Intelligent Christians would welcome this change. Society must make room for the kingdom of God and when this Kingdom comes it will accomplish all that Socialism demands and more. It will abolish race hatred and class struggle and every form of injustice.

The Church must bring together the economic and the devotional and seek to find the mind of Christ not only in matters of creed but in matters of work and wages. Let her take her rightful place of leadership by adopting the whole life and teaching of Jesus as her very own and Socialism, the great world force, will join hands with her for the bringing in of a better day.

At the morning communion service several new members joined the church.

"Madam," he began, as the door opened, "I am selling a new book on 'Etiquette and Deportment.'"

"Oh, you are!" she replied. "Go down there and clean the mud off your feet!"

"Yes'm. As I was saying, madam, 'Take off your hat! Never address a strange lady at her door without removing your hat.'"

"Yes'm. Now, ma'am, as I was saying—"

"Take your hand out of your pocket. No gentleman ever carries his hand there!"

"Yes'm. Now, ma'am, this work on 'Etiquette and Deportment.'"

"Wait! Put that dirty handkerchief out of sight, and use less grease on your hair in future. Now you look a bit more decent. You have a book on 'Etiquette and Deportment.' Very well, I don't want it. I am only the servant girl!"

Friendly Help Association — The Friendly Help Association will hold their monthly meeting on Tuesday morning, October 7, at 10.30 o'clock in their rooms, Market Building, Cornerant Street.
